$470,000 Dispute Here—'Double Tax' Sought by County

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A charge of $470,002 is being levied by Madison County against the taxing bodies of the Quad-City area as their share of financing the countywide cost of assessing, extending and collecting taxes for the 1971 tax year, it was learned by the Press-Record today.

"The charge against the Quad-City agencies is 33% of the total of $1,407,106 which will be billed countywide against all tax bodies to pay for operation of the county's tax system.

Tax agencies are being notified individually by letter from the office of County Treasurer George Musso, specifying the amounts owed by each district by townships.

"In larger districts that overlap into more than one township, the taxing cost is levied by townships on the basis of assessment, extension and collection items in each.

The plan brought objections from finance officials of most taxing districts who instructed their attorneys to determine whether or not the charge against the taxing bodies is legal.

In Granite City, City Treasurer Paul Rutledge said he considered the charge "double taxation" because the taxpayers pay a county tax rate which finances the county assessing system and tax extension work by the county clerk's office.

Further, he said, local assessments are financed by a township tax rate which pays the cost of the township assessor's operations.

Leon Scroggins, Granite City

attorney, said he is checking into the matter and that he expects to have an early opinion for the City Council, possibly in time for the regular council meeting next Monday night.

Musso, in his letter to the taxing districts, said the action is being taken under an ordinance approved by the County Board last November as part of a plan to finance the taxing system in accordance with statutory changes resulting from adoption of the 1970 Illinois Constitution.

A section of the new constitution prohibited use of fees to pay salaries or operational costs of any public office. This eliminated collection of taxes on a fee basis by township collectors and resulted at the same time in the loss of collection fees for the townships.

Under the plan effected by the county this year, 1971 tax collections, now under way, are being made in most instances by the former township collectors. They were made deputy county treasurers and are paid a flat amount only for the expense of conducting the collections, such as billing and clerical hire.

School District 9, highest of the total charge of $470,022 against Quad-City tax districts, $231,668, or 49%, is billed against Granite City School District 9. The district includes Granite City township and overlaps into parts of Venice, Nameki and Chouteau townships. As a result, the district is being billed for tax operations in all four townships.

The largest charge against District 9 is in Granite City Township, where the total cost for tax work has been set at $190,615. Other district charges by townships are $34,434 in Nameki Township, $13,632 in Chouteau Township and $2,987 in Venice Township.

The six taxing districts of Granite City Township, including the county, which also will be charged for its own tax extensions and collections, will be billed for a total of $302,761.

Largest single cost in Granite City is the $180,615 bill against the school district. The city places second high with a charge of $59,037. Other charges are $21,218 for the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, $21,318 against the county, $11,715 against the Granite City Park district and $8,858 against the township.

Total cost to the taxing districts of Venice Township will reach $89,411, according to charges listed by Musso's office. Largest among these is

Third Similar Slaying in 30-Day Span Here

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The body of an East St. Louis man was found floating face down along the south shore of Horseshoe Lake at 11:50 a.m. yesterday, the third apparent murder victim found in the Quad-City area in one month.

The body was identified as that of Jesse Leonard, 47, of East St. Louis, a core blower operator at American Steel Foundries in Granite City since 1936.

Leonard's hands and feet were bound with clothesline and a cord had been passed over his mouth and tied behind his head.

He was found by 8-year-old Charles Garber, 506 Bend Road, in the water near Bend and Layton roads, about one and one-half miles east of Route 203.

Garber rode his bicycle to the lake to fish. When he saw the body, he returned home and notified his mother, Mrs. Jeanie Garber, who accompanied him back to the lake. When she saw the body, she notified a state conservation officer who contacted the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

5 Feet From Shore Leonard's body was recovered five feet from the shoreline. He was pronounced dead on the scene at 12:35 p.m. yesterday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Robert Thomas Jr.

Deputies noted that the only visible injury was a small laceration above Leonard's right eye which they said apparently was serious enough to cause his death.

They said they are exploring the possibility that Leonard was alive until he was placed in the lake and that death was by drowning.

Leonard was fully dressed in gray work pants and a gray short-sleeve shirt. He last was seen at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday as he left home to help someone move. He also worked part-time for an East St. Louis moving business. His wife reported him missing Wednesday morning.

Deputies sent a description of the man to area police departments shortly after noon yesterday and reports of several persons matching the description were referred to the sheriff's department.

Identifies Body Leonard's part-time employer from East St. Louis made a positive identification of the body at 3 p.m. at a Granite City funeral home.

Leonard was employed by American Steel Foundries, East St. Louis works, from 1944 to 1953 when the plant closed. He was hired at the local plant in February 1956. Company officials today described him as "an excellent employee."

The finding of his body came precisely one month after another Negro man's body was found by Venice police near the Broadway underpass June 19.

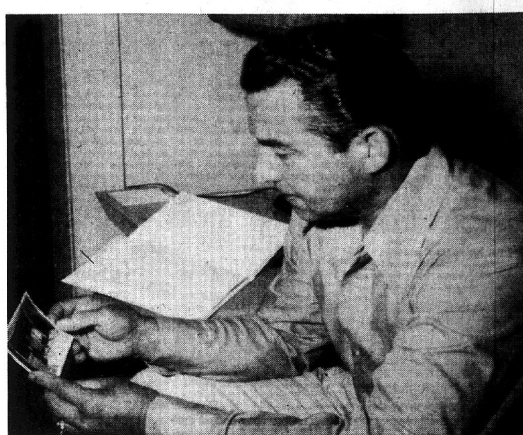

At 1 p.m. yesterday, Venice Chief of Police Ralph D. Bruley announced that an identification of that body had been made through a comparison of fingerprints.

He was identified as Jimmy Lee Murphy, 24, of St. Louis. Fingerprints were taken from the body and were compared to those on file with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, taken during Murphy's service in the U. S. Navy.

St. Louis Case The St. Louis Police Department, believing that Murphy was murdered in that city and was brought to Venice later, has declared the murder a St. Louis case.

Murphy was buried Friday, July 14, at Woodlawn Cemetery.

A HAPPY ENDING to a 30-year dream came this week as Ivan Kerep, formerly of Yugoslavia, found a job here, enabling him to remain as an immigrant. Here, in the home of his cousin, Mrs. Joseph Stajduhar, he studies a photograph of his family which he will bring to Granite City in September. Behind him is the book and letter which Mrs. Stajduhar found, resulting in renewed correspondence between Kerep and the local family.

Two Again Named Story Nets Job To Port Board; Retain Officers In 2½ Hours—Alien Can Stay

Henry D. Karandjeff, Granite City banker, and Homer Huber of the Feder-Hubert Co. were re-appointed to three-year terms on the Tri-City Regional Port District board this week by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie.

Huber is president of the furniture company and Karandjeff is board chairman of the Granite City Trust & Savings Co.

Ivan Kerep, 46, of the village of Varazze, Yugoslavia, from now on will be Ivan Kerep of Granite City.

He has obtained a job and the U.S. Department of Immigration now is processing his application to remain here.

Kerep, the subject of an article in Monday's Press-Record, came here last week to visit the family of his cousin, Mrs. Joseph Stajduhar, 3018 Nameki Road. The visit was the culmination of a 30-year search for his relatives here, following the death of his uncle, Mrs. Stajduhar's father.

When he saw Granite City, he said he would like to stay, but learned that he would have to have a job in order to remain. Two and one-half hours after Monday's Press-Record went to press, reporting his desire to stay and his need for a job, the telephone at the Stajduhar home rang with a job offer from Hyman-Michaels Co., Venice.

Later, a position with a St. Louis shipbuilding firm was offered by a man who said he would provide transportation for Kerep and would serve as an interpreter while Kerep's English improved. He also speaks Yugoslavian and German.

He accepted the position with Hyman-Michaels and will report for work later this year after visa problems have been resolved.

He explained to company officials that he must return to Yugoslavia Aug. 21 for two weeks to sell his home and settle obligations, but then would return here with his wife, Ann, and their children, Mickie, 17, and Star, 12. A married daughter, Diana, 22, will remain in Yugoslavia.

Add Old Debt to New Treatment Plant Financing

A bond issue of between $4 and $5 million will be necessary to finance construction of Granite City's secondary sewage treatment plant because of present bond ordinance regulations requiring the city to absorb its outstanding sewage treatment plant bonds in any new bond issue it may approve, city council members were told Monday night.

Alderman R. E. Robertson, chairman of the Pollution Plant Committee, said in a report to council members that he had been informed by Horacio Calvo, Granite City attorney serving as special bond attorney for the city's secondary sewage treatment program, that approximately $9 million in federal grants will hinge upon the council's approval of a bond issue that will refund more than $1 million in bonds presently outstanding against the primary treatment plant.

Following Monday night's council session, Calvo met last night in a conference session with council members to outline details of his proposal for issuance of new bonds to finance the secondary sewage treatment plant.

Calvo pointed out that the bond ordinance that financed construction of the present primary treatment plant provided that no additional bonds could be issued during the life of that bond issue unless the city maintained an earnings reserve amounting to 125% of the cost of the annual debt service.

According to Calvo, the bond debt service for a new bond issue of $3 million for financing secondary treatment plant construction would amount to approximately $253,000 per year. The debt service on the present bond issue balance is about $80,000 a year, Calvo added.

On this basis, the city would have to maintain an earnings reserve of about $445,000. The city's present treatment plant financial structure would not permit such a reserve, the attorney explained.

The requirement has no effect upon other sewer accounts such as those in the Nameki sewer district area, Calvo added.

Robertson distributed copies of his report to council members Monday night and said it

WHERE BODY WAS FOUND. Detective Sgt. John Slotta of the Madison County Sheriff's Department indicates the site where the body of Jesse Leonard, 47, of East St. Louis, was found at 11:50 a.m. yesterday. Leonard's body was floating five feet from the shore at the south end of Horseshoe Lake near Bend and Layton Roads. His hands and feet were bound and a cord was tied over his mouth to the back of his head.

More Hot Rolling Here a Factor In National Steel's Profitability

Pittsburgh — National Steel Corporation earned $21,283,545, equivalent to $1.14 per share, in the second quarter of 1972, its chairman, George A. Stinson, reported Wednesday. The firm owns Granite City Steel Co.

The corporation's directors declared a dividend of 62½ cents per share for the third quarter of 1972 at a regular meeting of the board of directors which will be payable Sept. 14 to stockholders of record Aug. 25.

For the first half of 1972, Stinson said, profit totaled $36,176,079, equivalent to $1.94 per share, compared with earnings of $36,872,645, or $1.98 per share, in the first half of 1971. All comparative figures have been adjusted to reflect the equity method of accounting, equivalent in 1972, and the acquisition of Granite City Steel Co., in August 1971, on a pool-of-interest basis.

Neither sales nor earnings in the second 1972 quarter matched those of the comparable quarter of 1971, Stinson said.

Primarily this reflected the unusually high level of shipments during the second 1971 quarter as customers accumulated steel mill product inventories as a hedge against a possible strike when labor agreements terminated Aug. 1, 1971. Second quarter 1971 earnings were $1.30 per share, as adjusted.

Second-quarter 1972 earnings also were reduced by strikes at two principal raw materials suppliers. They are National Steel Pellet Plant, in Minneapolis, and the Granite City mill. Second-quarter 1972 earnings were $1.14 per share, as adjusted.

Contract for Rebuilding High School Auditorium is Awarded

A contract ranging from $687,713 to $718,978 for rebuilding the high school auditorium was awarded to S. M. Wilson Co. by the Granite City School Board Monday night.

The board authorized a contract with the S. M. Wilson Co. at an earlier meeting with the total cost undetermined pending negotiations on several items.

The contract confirmed Monday night was set at $674,953, plus a seating expense between $22,780 and $36,025 which will depend upon the board's selection of seating prices now under study.

To improve and update the driver training program and increase student enrollment to a regular capacity of 672 students, the board approved a bid call for installation of driver training simulators.

Mock-Up Cars

The program involves the use of mock-up cars with a driver's seat, the various controls, including automatic and stick shift, and instrument panel.

Student drivers react to a variety of traffic situations projected onto a screen before them. Instructor control panels permit monitoring of errors at all stations simultaneously, as well as the control positions of any individual simulator car at any time.

Annual savings to the district through elimination of before and after school instructional salaries are estimated at $13,176, plus operating cost of one car which would be eliminated.

Similar savings would occur through use of this system in the summer school program, the board was told.

The proposal involves the purchase and installation at a cost of approximately $34,000 of a mobile 16-place simulator unit for use at the present high school during the new school year.

After the second high school opens, the mobile unit would be transferred to that location and a classroom simulator installation at an approximate cost of $27,000 will be made at the present high school, according to the plan.

Application will be filed for reimbursement of 50% of costs under the National Highway Traffic Safety Act for the two-year program.

Resignations accepted during the meeting included those of Paul Mabrey, vocal music elementary teacher, who has been offered a graduate assistant post in the Music Department at SIU-SW, and Miss Beverly G. Gilbert, girls' physical education teacher at the Granite City High School who will be moving to the Chicago area.

Leaves of absence were granted to Mrs. Louise Palau, business education teacher at the High School, for the 1972-73 school year, and to Mrs. Cheryl Gann, teacher at the Russell Johnson School, from Oct. 2 to Dec. 4 this year.

Seven new teachers were hired for the 1972-73 school year. They include Miss Mary Ruth Cox, 3108 Yale Drive, no experience, B. A. degree from Illinois State University, assigned as a special education teacher; M. S. Donna Ferro, 2520 Delmar Ave., no experience, B. S. degree from SIU-SW, upper primary teacher at Parkway School.

DeMolay Car Washes To Aid Conclave Trip

Three car washes are planned by the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, to finance activities of local delegates at the 42nd annual Illinois Conclave to be held on the Carbondale Campus of Southern Illinois University Aug. 10 to 13.

The chapter voted to enter Miss Kathy Parnley, the DeMolay's 1972 chapter sweetheart, to compete for the title of State Sweetheart at the conclave, during a meeting Tuesday night. Chapter members also discussed plans for attending the conclave and decided all members planning to attend should have their registrations in by Aug. 1.

One of the car wash projects will be conducted at the Fin Station, Eighth Street and Madison Avenue, on July 29. The other two will be held on July 29 and Aug. 5 at locations yet to be announced.

Jerry Todd, athletic chairman, reported that the State Softball Tournament in which the local chapter will play is to be held the weekend of July 30 at Jacksonville, Ill. Hiram Ables, master counselor, presided at Tuesday night's meeting.

Busy Festival Weekend to Include Miller Orchestra, Violinist and Victor Borge

The Mississippi River Festival stage, tent and hillside arena on the Southern Illinois University-Southern campus will undergo another change of pace tomorrow night.

servatory in Russia.

Music Director Suskind will open Saturday's concert with Tchaikovsky's "Symphonies in G major and close with Franck's Symphony in D minor.

Domestic Steel Employment in Continued Rise

Washington — Domestic steel industry employment recorded its sixth straight monthly increase in May, continuing a steady recovery from the 22-year low it reached last November.

According to American Iron and Steel Institute, 480,578 persons were working for steel companies in this country during the month, up 4,908 individuals from April's 475,670 total. May's employment also was a gain of more than 34,000 persons from January, and was an increase of 50,813 individuals over November's 429,765 total.

The Institute reports that domestic steelmakers paid out $304,658,000 in wages and salaries during May. This compares with $477,118,000 in such payments in April.

Through the first five months of 1972, these steel producers had paid $2,356,721,000 in wages and salaries to their employees.

Total employment costs per hour by hourly employees was $6.98 in May 1972, compared with a $6.26 average for 1971.

YMCA Schedules New Swim Class Program

Ronald Ireland, aquatic director at the Tri-City Area YMCA, has announced the starting of the fourth session in the Summer Aquatic Program on Monday. The program serves youth of grade-school ages 6 to 13. A class is available to youth at all levels of swimming development. Classes for the fourth session are scheduled as follows:

Ages 6 to 7, Beginner, 11:11 a.m. and 4:45 p.m.; Advanced beginner, 11:11 a.m. and 4:45 p.m.

Ages 8 up, Beginner, 9:15-10 a.m. and 1:15-2 p.m.; Advanced beginner, 9:15-10 a.m. and 1:15-2 p.m.

All ages, Intermediate, 2:25-3:45 p.m.; Advanced Intermediate, 3:45-5 p.m.

Each class will have a series of at least five performance tests that must be passed before the student can move into the next level. When a child has successfully completed the required tests, he is awarded a progressive swim card for that level. The classes meet daily for two weeks and are available to YMCA members and non-members, Ireland said.

City Seeks Early Action On Ponton Road Paving

Decision to proceed immediately with overlay resurfacing of Ponton Road from Maryville Road to Franklin Avenue rather than wait for development of the project under the federal TOPICS program was reached by city council members Monday night.

The council, after overriding a request by Alderman R. E. Robertson that the Ponton Road project be referred to the Street and Alley Committee, approved a motion by Alderman Thomas Boker that the city's special motor fuel tax engineers be instructed to determine if there are conflicts between engineers in the paving proposal and to bring in the necessary resolutions to initiate the work if it is found feasible under MET regulations.

The action supplanted a proposal offered two weeks ago to resurface Ponton Road from Maryville Road to Nimrod Road. Mayor Donald Partney, who has been ill, wrote council members suggesting that the Ponton improvement is included among a number of street projects qualified under the TOPICS program, for which the city will receive 50% of the cost in state and federal funds.

Separate Engineers
The TOPICS program has been planned by Harland Bartholomew and Associates, St. Louis planning engineers, while the city's motor fuel tax engineering is handled by M. Engineers & Architects of St. Louis.

A. A. Pierson, vice-president of the M.W. firm, told the council Monday night that his firm "is most anxious" to handle any MET projects the city has, but that his firm cannot handle the project as long as another engineering firm is involved. Boker asked Pierson if he would investigate the involvement of the Bartholomew firm in the TOPICS program and determine if it is feasible to set up the Ponton paving as a separate motor fuel tax project. Pierson said he would and Boker presented the motion to that effect.

Council members agreed that the condition of Ponton Road is such that repair work of some type must be undertaken soon. Some aldermen maintained that improvement of the road as a TOPICS project "is two years away."

The council Monday night also delayed for another week any action on the award of a contract for additional trash and refuse pickups in Granite City, made necessary by the state-wide open burning ban.

Instead of acting on bids received a week ago from four sanitation firms, the council referred the bids and trash pickup problems to the Sanitation Committee headed by Alderman William Dallas.

Dallas did not release figures in the bids, but said trash pickup offers were received from Midwest Sanitary Service of Wood River, the Midway Corp. Red's Truck Service and Harrison Padgett, all of Granite City.

Mayor Partney has urged the use of two city-owned trucks, manned by employees provided by the Madison County Emer-

State Outlook Uncertain Despite Daley Endorsement of McGovern

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield — Whatever its eventual outcome, the 1972 political campaign in Illinois promises to be the most confused one in the state's history.

To some extent, this reflects the general political climate prevailing across the United States in this year, the scrambled alliances, unprecedented and unpredictable campaign year.

But, in Illinois, the situation is even more confused than that existing in other states.

Because of the great importance attached to Illinois in any presidential election year, the scrambled alliances take on special significance.

In the overall, the disarray hurts the Democrats and generally should help the Republicans. However, there are few, if any, "sure things" in politics.

Democratic troubles start at the very top. For years, Democrats have marched forth to the fall campaign in disciplined unity behind the firm leadership of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

But not necessarily this year, despite Daley's loyalty pledge of Monday. The mayor, already saddled with a gubernatorial candidate, Dan Walker, with whom he shares a mutual dislike, finds himself backing another Democrat for whom he has no affection, Sen. George S. McGovern, for President.

Of course, the humiliation of being refused his delegate seat at the national convention last week will remain to rankle the mayor and his supporters for weeks to come, and maybe longer.

McGovern is trying to patch up his differences with the mayor, but the outlook for total unity is far from optimistic on this score.

It remains to be seen what the full effect of this week's stand by Mayor Daley will be.

Asserting "I am a Democrat," Daley said, "I will support every candidate on the Democratic ticket, federal, state and county."

His formal statement did not mention Sen. McGovern by name. When asked whether McGovern would be a better leader than President Nixon, the mayor responded, "I think the voters will give you that answer."

The apparent coolness left unanswered the question of precisely how hard Daley will ask his Democratic organization to work. The degree could be significant, since this is a swing state and President Kennedy's 1960 Illinois margin over Mr. Nixon was less than 10,000 votes.

Daley on Monday pictured the 1972 prospects as "an uphill fight."

Asked whether he holds McGovern responsible for the convention's refusal to seat the 58-member Daley delegation, the mayor remarked, "What do you think? Explaining why he did not go to the Miami Beach convention, he said, "Because they didn't want us."

Gubernatorial nominee Walker, for his part, is continuing to campaign in Downstate Illinois as a foe of "machine politics."

In Illinois, many voters have associated that phrase with Daley.

Even the so-called "new breed" of leadership poses unity problems for Illinois Democrats.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson of Chicago, who played a key role in Daley's Miami Beach defeat, is far from a tried and true Democrat.

Not only did Rev. Jackson not cast a vote in the March primary, he has supported Republican Senator Charles H. Percy in his re-election effort over the Democratic challenger, Congressman Roman C. Pucinski.

Nor is the Jackson effort on behalf of Walker expected to be too enthusiastic. Democrats recall that four years ago he supported Republican Richard B. Ogilvie over Democratic Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro.

Rev. Jackson is expected to go all out for McGovern and this could be a big help to the latter in Chicago's black areas. But at the same time there may be an anti-Jackson backlash in some Cook County suburbs.

Another Democratic-leaning Chicago-based group, the Independent Voters of Illinois, is split on its endorsements. The IVI has opted for Percy over Pucinski and given Walker a narrow endorsement while speaking well of Ogilvie at the same time.

The IVI surprised some political figures in the secretary of state race by backing Republican Edmund J. Kucharski over Democrat Michael J. Howlett.

Howlett is a phenomenon in himself, consistently speaking in support of President Nixon's foreign policy and running a virtually independent campaign.

Post-primary efforts to force a friendly bond between Walker and his defeated foe, Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, have made little progress. The relationship existing between the two resembles that once prevailing between Thomas E. Dewey and Harry Truman.

But the Jackson effort on behalf of Walker expected to be too enthusiastic. Democrats

Venice Teaching Staff of 53 Reduced to 48 for New Year

Although the fine arts program at the Venice schools will be discontinued during the 1972-73 school year, due to the district's financial picture, four teachers with tenure also resigned.

Fifty-three teachers were employed at the Venice elementary and high schools on Broadway in 1971-72. This fall, 48 teachers will fill the faculty positions. Enrollment is expected to remain about the same as last year, Vickers said.

Other changes authorized by the school board to reduce operating costs included reassignment of a teacher whose salary exceeded $14,000 annually; this instructor will teach Title I classes, with full salary reimbursement from Title I funds.

One of three first grade teachers in 1971-72 has been reassigned to a new learning disabled class, with $5,000 of the teacher's salary repaid from state and federal funds. Another teacher will take the first grade class, Vickers explained.

A non-tenure teacher at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, who was among the original 13 getting dismissal notices, will head a new working career program at Venice High school in 1972-73.

The administrator said the Work Experimental Career Exploration Program (WEECP) will be financed with federal money and offered special services to high school dropouts and potential dropouts.

The vacant position at Venice-Lincoln will be filled by the tenured teacher formerly in the fine arts department, Vickers said.

Faculty members at the adult vocational training center on South Fourth Street, Venice, are expected to number 16, the same as last year.

Personnel and programs at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center are administered through the Venice School District, although operations at the center are funded by state and federal agencies.

Three dismissed Of the 13 teachers notified of their dismissal earlier, only three actually were dismissed, Vickers said.

GC Council Rejects 1st Reading For Budget as Deadline Nears

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

An effort to place a new Granite City budget of $4,000,000 on first reading—in preparation for final adoption next week—failed Monday night in a tumultuous council session which ended in a recess with most of the council business still incomplete.

Handicapped by the absence of five aldermen and dissension over the budget total among some of the nine remaining council members, Alderman Steve Basarich, chairman of the Finance Committee, was unable to muster the minimum eight votes needed to approve a motion to place the budget on first reading.

Basarich warned that the council must adopt the 1972-73 budget and obtain publication of the appropriations bill not later than July 31 or face questions as to the budget's legality. Monday night will be the last regularly scheduled meeting before the end-of-the-month deadline.

Basarich introduced the $4-million-plus budget as part of the Finance Committee's business schedule, pointing out that the committee had met with all city department heads and officials in preparing the appropriations bill "and we are certain that everybody is agreed as to the figures." Basarich read the budget in detail and moved that it be placed on first reading.

That motion was given a second by Alderman Paul Schuler who said he wanted to make sure that everybody was agreed on the budget before the council would prefer to submit the amendment in the next meeting (July 24) if it were legal to make an amendment when the bill was advanced to second reading. City Attorney Scroggins responded that it was legal.

The move to activate the budget bill hit its first snag when Alderman Walter Nomm told the council "This isn't the budget. It doesn't include the money we are going to have to pay for pollution control and bonds and a lot of other things. (The budget figures) just gives the routine items."

Charges that the budget "is way too high" came from Alderman Sam Whittier who said he had made comparisons of the Finance Committee's budget with one proposed earlier in the year by Mayor Partney.

"The committee added $1 million into the budget all the items the mayor had taken out in trying to trim our costs," Whittier said.

On a roll call vote, seven aldermen favored placing the budget on first reading and two voted against it. Favoring the motion were Schuler, Boker, Basarich, Whittier, Frank Greenwald and Roy Poulos. Voting "no" were Robertson and Nomm.

Absent when the vote was taken were Alderman Gerald Partney, Claude Gerold, Alderman Daves and Clyde Boyd, who did not attend the meeting, and William Dallas. Dallas was present during the early part of the council session but left the meeting to go to work because the budget discussion began.

Robertson at first declared the motion carried, but Scroggins pointed out that Basarich's motion to place the budget on first reading required a favorable vote of at least eight members of the 14-man council.

Alderman Poulos objected. "What is all this?" he asked. "We have to get this budget passed."

Poulos suggested that either Nomm or Robertson change their vote to "yes" per the budget to go on first reading.

"We can argue the details later," said Poulos.

Poulos turned to Nomm. "Waiter, how about changing your vote?" he suggested.

"You vote the way you want to and I'll take care of my own voting," Nomm replied.

Hill Opposed
Robertson said he would change his vote to "yes" with the understanding that "I am still opposed to the budget." He said he would place his first reading, but it didn't change his views. Robertson then instructed City Clerk Robert Stevenson to record Basarich's motion as having passed.

"Wait a minute," Whittier said. "You can't do that."

"Why not?" Robertson responded.

"Because no one can change his vote without permission of the council after the tally has been announced by the clerk," Whittier explained. Scroggins confirmed the rule.

"All right, do I have the council's permission to change my vote?" Robertson queried.

A motion and second was made, but on a roll call vote, demanded by Whittier, the council was five in favor and two against.

The motion was declared lost on the basis of the earlier ruling that a minimum of eight votes was required. No further action on the budget was taken.

In subsequent matters, aldermen became involved in disputes that prompted Schuler to present a motion to recess the meeting until the following Monday night, date of the council's next regular meeting.

Getting Nowhere
"We are getting nowhere doing tonight. We don't have enough aldermen here to give final passage to anything. I think we should quit tonight," Schuler said.

That motion failed to receive a second, but a few minutes later, after a routine resolution for acceptance of an annexation plan was rejected by an insufficient vote, Schuler put the motion again.

The motion received a second and a roll call vote favored the meeting recess for two. There was no question on the minimum-vote ruling and Robertson declared the meeting adjourned.

Major items of business delayed by the early end to the meeting included approval of a resolution for the transfer of funds to permit payment of bills in some accounts with insufficient balances, action on a series of city hall employee work agreements completed recently by the council's negotiations committee.

A. O. Smith Earnings Show Slight Increase

Milwaukee—Earnings of A. O. Smith Corp. in the first six months of 1972 were ahead of a year ago, even though the second quarter was behind because of labor and cost problems at the company's elevator subsidiaries.

L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, announced the first half 1972 results Monday.

First-half earnings were $7,652,000, or $1.55 per share, compared with $7,317,000, or $1.49 per share in the first six months of 1971. Sales in the period were $254,621,000 compared with $240,429,000 last year.

For the second quarter, earnings were $3,468,000, or 70 cents per share, compared with $4,037,000, or 82 cents per share in 1971. Sales in the second quarter were $129,125,000 compared with $123,605,000 last year.

All per share values have been adjusted for a 2 for 1 stock split which took effect May 15.

A. O. Smith, through its Armco Elevator subsidiaries, is a major manufacturer of elevators in both the U. S. and Canada.

In the U. S., nearly all elevator construction was halted during the entire second quarter by a strike of elevator construction workers. The strike began March 30 and was settled July 8 with a five-year, three-month contract.

It affected all parts of the country except New York City. On July 3, elevator construction workers in New York went on strike and are still not back to work.

In Canada, Smith said, elevator construction has been working without a contract since April 30. While there has been no strike, there continues to be substantial labor unrest reducing productivity in construction operations.

In addition to these labor disruptions, it is now apparent that Armco is experiencing unsatisfactory margins because planned cost reductions have not yet materialized. As a result, Armco operated at a loss in the first half of this year, Smith said.

The compounded effect of these adverse factors will be felt throughout the remainder of 1972, Smith said, even though steps already have been taken to improve the situation.

He said that while it appears that this year's performance in the elevator business will be disappointing, he remains confident of Armco's long-term prospects as a growing and substantial profit contributor to A. O. Smith.

The improvement in earnings in the first half is principally the result of good performance by the company's Consumer Products division, which manufactures water heating equipment, the Meter Systems division, which produces measuring and dispensing equipment for the petroleum industry, and a subsidiary, A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., which makes livestock feeding systems.

The Automotive division, which makes automobile and truck frames, also had a good first half, Smith said, although profit margins were hurt by the Economic Stabilization Program.

The Electric Motor division is recovering nicely from last year's inventory over-build in the air conditioning industry and made a good contribution to first-half earnings, Smith said.

State Sticks to Original Plan For Dobrey Drainage Program

A plan under which the controversial Dobrey Slough drainage improvement program—in the planning stage for two years—may proceed under original construction proposals developed by the state in July 1970 was outlined Tuesday night at a public meeting attended by more than 100 persons in Nameki township.

At the same time, State Senator Sam Vadala (D-Edwardsville) told the meeting that he had been informed in a letter from John Gullion, director of the Illinois State Division of Waterways, that a total of $150,000 will be provided by the state to aid in the drainage project, an increase of $40,000 over the original state allocation.

Senator Vadala said he also was informed by Gullion that a revised route for construction of the Dobrey Slough drainage canal urged by Granite City Mayor Donald Partney in conferences at Springfield several months ago will not be used and that the project will employ the route outlined in the first plan developed by waterways division engineers.

Partney's alternative program was suggested after the project encountered lengthy delays because the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, which has appropriated $40,000 as its share of the project, was unable to procure several pieces of right of way necessary for building the drainage canal.

May Settle Problems

Officials attending Tuesday night's meeting pointed out that the objections of the property owners to furnishing the right of way may be worked out so that the original route for the drainage channel may be followed.

Bill Nichols, one of the major owners of Horseshoe Lake property, said he had talked with the property owners who refused to sell easements and that he is certain they would provide the needed right of way if they are guaranteed that the level of Horseshoe Lake will be lowered.

As a result, those attending the Tuesday night discussion agreed to send a committee to the next meeting of the levee district board on Aug. 9 and request that the levee district use part of its $40,000 appropriation to build a culvert on the eastern edge of the lake to increase the lake flow into the Cahokia Creek channel that runs to the levee district's North Pumping Station on the riverfront at East St. Louis.

Tolar Present

Lawrence Tolar of East St. Louis was the only levee board member to appear at the meeting. He said he would be in favor of the plan. Tolar told the group that the Dobrey Slough project never has been presented to the entire board membership.

Senator Vadala and State Representatives Robert Walters (R-Alton), Leland J. Kennedy (D-Alton) and Horace Calvo (D-Granite City), all of whom attended the meeting, said they will attend the levee board meeting Aug. 9 to press for the culvert installation.

A committee of five persons, headed by Nichols, was appointed to attend the levee board meeting. Those in addition to Nichols include Mrs. Rella Knapp, County Board Member Louis Whitsett, James Priz and Mrs. Helen Hawkins. Gene Werterp and Robert Cull represented the state waterways division at the meeting Tuesday night, while Ramsey Alexander represented the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. A delegation of Granite City leaders, including Thomas A. Baker, Frank Greenwald, Emerald Dawes and Sam Whitmer also attended, as did Street Superintendent Lionel Porriell.

L-15 Levee Discussion Is Planned on July 26

A discussion of the controversial L-15 levee proposed for the Missouri River levee system near Alton will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, July 26, at SIU-SW.

The program, in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center, will be open to the public, admission free. It is being sponsored by the current events committee at SIU-SW.

The proposed levee is under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Col. Charles Schweitzer, associate director of the SIU Foundation, will discuss the relation of the Corps to the political process.

A retired Army officer, he was district engineer for the Corps in St. Louis from 1967 to 1969. Also speaking will be Andrew Clifton, professor of biology at Principia College, a member of the environmental work group named by the Corps to study effects of the proposed levee on the ecology of the area.

A question-and-answer session will follow the two presentations. Chuck McCum of the current events committee said.

LOOK WHO VOTED VEGA THE BEST ECONOMY CAR IN THE WORLD. AGAIN.

Every year is election year for the readers of Car and Driver magazine.

Every year they vote for what they believe are the best cars in the world in various categories.

This year they voted Vega "best economy sedan" against some pretty stiff competition from Japan, Germany, Italy. Even the U.S.A.

That's quite a tribute when you think about it. These people really know cars. And when they pick a winner, it's truly a winner.

They've picked Vega two years in a row now. (In 1971, Vega's very first year on the market, it managed to unseat the incumbent import, breaking its eight-year winning streak.)

Chevrolet would like to thank the readers of Car and Driver for helping to confirm what we've been saying right along:

Vega is the little car that does everything well. It moves well, stops well, turns well, rides well. And it looks well, it looks pretty darn sporty for an economy car.

Obviously it takes more than economy to be voted "best economy sedan." Drive a Vega now, while The Vega Drive is on.

Building a better way to see the U.S.A.

Remember, buckling your seat and shoulder belts is an idea you can live with.

Daredevils Auto Thrill Show at Tri-City Speedway July 29

The world famous King Kovaz Auto Daredevils will make a one-night appearance at the Tri-City Speedway here at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, July 29, presenting 28 "death defying" events in cars and on motorcycles.

Among the events in the one hour and 45 minutes show are rampo-ramp, roll-over competition and the "dive-bomber" crash.

Also featured is the famous "high sides" driving in which cars are balanced on two wheels while moving at high speed around the race track.

Tunnel of Flame
One of the most dangerous events of the program is the "tunnel of flame" in which a motorcycle rider crashes through several burning board walls. The rider could be burned severely or injured by flying timbers during the event.

Among the drivers expected is Billy Little, a veteran of 20 years in the auto thrill show business.

Little jumps cars and pickup trucks over other cars and between ramps set 70 feet apart. He also specializes in reverse spins and the "high sides" event.

Slide for Life
Also on the program are Rebel Gates, dive bomber expert, Cal Writley, human battering ram and roll-over expert, who also does the slide-for-life in which he slides behind a car through a pool of flaming gasoline; and Bobby Chance, Duke Reid and Bob Connolly well-known stunt drivers.

Doug Driscoll of Hollywood, Calif., serves as a most unusual clown during the show.

Little League Football Now Being Organized in Madison

By WALTER F. STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The board of directors of the St. Louis Junior Football League voted Tuesday to allow Madison to enter two teams in its league this season, according to Al Vonder Haar, league board member and Madison High School head football coach.

A team for boys seven and eight years of age and one for boys 13 and 14 will be formed. The 7-8-year-olds will be divided into two groups, light weights with a maximum weight of 50 pounds and heavy weights with maximum weight of 60 pounds.

Each boy will be allowed to gain up to five pounds during the season.

A six-game schedule will be played against other teams of the same weight class and experience level.

The 13-14-year-old classification will have a weight limit of 150 pounds.

Need Adult Coaches
"Our first need is to recruit adults interested in helping as coaches and managers in this Little League football program," Vonder Haar told the Press-Record.

Any adult interested in Little League football and in helping the program get started may call the office of the Madison High School, 676-7010, and leave his name, address and phone number.

Vonder Haar said that some time after the first of August, he will hold a meeting of the adults interested in the program.

Clinics for the coaches then will be held in Madison and St. Louis.

Booster School Program
"We hope to start small and grow. Since there is no football program in the Madison Junior High School, the Little League program will prove to be a real asset to our high school football program."

"Madison boys won't be waiting until they reach the ninth grade to learn the basic fundamentals of the game," Vonder Haar noted.

A sign-up day for boys will be held after the coaches and managers have been chosen.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH BUCK, who were married July 15 in the home of the bride, the former Miss Cynthia Anne Chilcutt. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Chilcutt, 19 Moorland Drive.

Buck-Chilcutt Wedding In Candlelight Setting

Branched candelabra ablaze with lighted tapers in hurricane lamps and festooned with garlands of smilax and white satin bows provided the setting on July 15 for the early evening wedding of Miss Cynthia Anne Chilcutt and Kenneth Buck.

The ceremony was performed in the home of the bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Chilcutt, 19 Moorland Drive. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buck, live in Maplewood, Mo.

Mr. Harold Clanton of the Jehovah Witness congregation officiated at the double ring ceremony at five o'clock.

Mrs. Nick Dogovich presided at the organ, playing "We've Only Just Begun," "Praise Jehovah," "The Rock" and "Proof of Discipleship."

Given in marriage by the father, the bride wore an original gown fashioned of Monte Carlo crepe and lace, especially designed and created by her cousin, Miss Ruby Burch of St. Louis County.

The Empire bodice of Alencon lace extended over the shoulder forming a short cap sleeve effect and the neckline was gracefully scooped. The full length skirt featured a wide band of pale pink satin under Alencon lace encircling the hem and Empire waist. Matching lace motifs were appliqued at random on the long train.

Her headpiece of satin petals embellished with seed pearls and centered with delicate lace flowers secured a full length veil, and she carried Chantilly pink roses arranged in a cascade with baby breath and pink velvet ribbons.

The maid of honor, Miss Donna Eggle, and bridesmaid, Mrs. Candy Thompson, wore identical frocks of pink polyester dotted swiss designed in an A-line style. White lace with pink velvet insertion ribbon, accented with pink rosebuds, trimmed the bodices and a floor length panel at the back of their gowns.

They wore headpieces of pink velvet ribbon embellished with rose buds, and each held a white lace fan adorned with pink Chantilly roses and baby breath.

The groom chose Sam Miller of St. Louis as best man. Charles Contag of St. Louis served as groomsman and David Chilcutt, a brother of the bride, acted as ring bearer.

A reception was held at Tri Mor Bowl 300 Room for approximately 100 guests at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The newly married couple is on a honeymoon trip to Denver, Colo., and will reside in Maplewood, Mo., upon their return.

Employed at Famous-Barr Co., St. Louis, is the customer relations department, the former Miss Chilcutt also attended Forest Park Junior College. Her husband is employed as a dispatcher for the Metropolitan Sewer District of St. Louis.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chilcutt of Greenville, Mo.; Mrs. Louise Wallace and daughter, Marilyn, of St. John, Mo., and a number of friends and relatives from St. Louis and the surrounding area.

Gift to GC Library at Garden Seminar

The ever increasing danger of extinction of certain animal species was stressed by Mrs. Byrne A. Jackson of Villa Park, state garden centers chairman for the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., who spoke at a garden center seminar at the Granite City Public Library.

Using quotes from the book, "Wildlife Crisis" by R. H. France Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, and J. A. M. S. Fisher, Mrs. Jackson urged all garden club members to realize the potential for educating and alerting the school child and the community in general to the problems of the environment through the garden center concept.

The main objective of such centers should be community service in all areas that can be related to conservation, beautification and gardening, the guest speaker stressed. The morning seminar was sponsored by the Gardenaires Garden Club of Granite City, which maintains and finances a mini-garden information center at the public library. Only three such centers exist in the state; one here and two in the Chicago area.

Book Presentation
Another highlight of the program was a special presentation made by Mrs. Robert Blankenship, president of the Garden Study Club, to the public library for its circulating references.

The gift books included: "Encyclopedia of Roses" by H. H. Land; "Better Homes and Gardens House Plants"; "As We Live and Breathe," a National Geographic publication; "Siftings," a collection of writing of Jens Jensen, naturalist, who designed the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Garden in Springfield.

field, a project of the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc. "Herbs: Their Culture and Uses" by Rosemary E. Kavanagh. "The Green Thumb Garden Handbook" by George Abraham, and "Favorite Flowers in Color" by Dowder, Freese, Eason and Everett.

Mrs. Gerald Walters, assistant librarian, presented the library staff at the presentation.

To Establish Centers
Primary purpose of the seminar here was to acquaint federated garden club representatives with the state and national requirements for establishing garden centers in other communities and receiving official recognition for their projects.

Mrs. Charles Kohl, a Gardenaires member and District V garden centers chairman, was in charge of the seminar and a luncheon at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Among the special guests introduced was Miss Lucille Macdonald, trustee of the Granite City Public Library and a director of the Lewis and Clark Library System, who briefly outlined plans for a branch library in Granite City.

Others presented to the group were Wayne Siefert, area adviser in ornamental horticulture for the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service; Mrs. B. J. Jisselhardt of Edwardsville, District V director; Mrs. Stephen P. Shea of Belleville, state Blue Star Memorial Highway chairman; and the guest speaker's husband, Byrne A. Jackson.

During the luncheon, Mrs. Blankenship assisted at the coffee and tea services and Mrs. John Lehman of Garden Study Club gave the invocation. Mrs. John Jenkins of Cloverview, presided at the punch bowl.

Other local garden club members attending were Mrs. B. C. Jennison-Wright Strike Settled

The four and one-half week strike of Carpenters' Local 262 at Jennison-Wright Corp., 2nd Street and the railroad tracks, was settled yesterday, and the workers began returning to the job today.

A negotiating session Friday resulted in a settlement, and representatives of the union and company met yesterday afternoon, adjourning at 4 p.m. with a tentative agreement.

The union membership met and ratified the new three-year contract at 5:30 p.m. yesterday and voted to return to work when called.

A company official said only a few of the 85 union members had been called back this morning, but it was expected that 10 would be working by this evening. The call back is to continue tomorrow and Monday and all workers should be back on the job by Tuesday, the spokesman said.

Details of the new contract were not disclosed but it contains graduated increases in wages and fringe benefits over the three-year term, a union spokesman said. Company officials termed the agreement "an equitable settlement."

MORE ABOUT National Steel

sota, and Carol Pellet Plant of the Iron Ore Co. of Canada, in Labrador. The strikes, which began in early June, have not yet been settled.

"Second quarter financial results continue to reflect improving profitability," said those of the first quarter this year," Stinson said.

"Our aim is to maintain these improved profit margins during the remainder of 1972 even though labor costs will rise about 7% Aug. 1.

"One helpful factor will be that the steel market, during the remainder of this year, should be better than it was in the last five months of 1971, when strike-hedge inventories were being liquidated.

"In addition, we have increased the ability of Granite City Steel to contribute to earnings, both because of better blast furnace performance there and because we can operate its hot-rolling facilities at higher levels."

Sales and operating revenues during the second quarter, 1972, totaled $429,789,723, compared with $483,672,278 in the second 1971 quarter.

For the first half of 1972, sales and operating revenues totaled $827,336,649, compared with $873,706,802 in the first half of 1971.

Primary steel production totaled 2,465,690 tons in the second quarter, and shipments totaled 1,921,800 tons. For the second quarter of 1971, comparable figures were 2,452,000 tons and 2,383,200 tons, respectively.

Parents Asked to Help Find Frohardt Vandal

Wanted: Two or more sets of parents who have the courage of their convictions that a child who commits vandalism should be shown the error of his ways to prevent more vicious acts when older.

A former school classmate of a vandal who is now a student at Frohardt Grade School, where malicious vandals last night smashed windows in the building on Johnson Road.

Detectives were at the school this morning investigating several leads left at the scene by the vandals. A tape recorder is missing and a list of other items being copied by J. Davis of Granite City said today. "The entire place is a mess. Children involved in the vandalism probably had the paint and glue on the soles of their tennis shoes, as two distinct marks were found in various areas of the building."

"I am asking any parent who finds blue, red or yellow paint glue on his child's shoes to contact me at 876-6800," the administrator said. The tracks left by the miscreants appear to be size 8 or 9 shoe, with the youngsters involved probably in the 4th through 6th grade level, he speculated.

Entry into the building was gained by smashing a long pane of glass in a rear window, reaching inside and pushing the pane back to release the door lock mechanism.

The culprits smashed supplies stored in the gymnasium, throwing paper goods and wax about the room. They then entered the storage area where paint was splashed on the walls and floors. Across the hall in the cafeteria, they opened freezers, allowing the food to spoil.

Officers of the principal, coach, nurse and secretary were ransacked and the contents of lockers and desks were emptied over desks and floors. Papers were scattered amid the destruction.

Results at Frohardt School are considered to be among the worst acts of willful vandalism experienced by Granite City's school system, those viewing the damage reported.

Madison Council Ok's $933,408 Budget; Up 9%

By GARY SCHNEIDER Press-Record Staff Writer

A $933,408 budget, which includes 4% raises for all fulltime city employees, was approved by the Madison City Council during its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The budget is 9% higher than last year's $866,056 appropriation with the largest increase of 13% in the general corporate fund. The general fund jumped from $611,689 in the 1971-72 city budget to $680,235 in the new budget for the fiscal period of May 1, 1972, to April 30, 1973.

Largest single appropriation in the corporate fund is $215,132 budgeted for the police department. The figure shows an increase from the $206,719 appropriated for that department in the 1971-72 budget.

The corporate fund also calls for $17,447 for the executive department, up from $16,933 last year. The legislative department, the same amount as in last year's budget, $20,484 for the finance and accounting department, an increase from $19,985 last year; $12,525 for the legal department, the same as in last year's budget, and $131,489 for the street and utility department, up from the $74,402 budgeted last year.

A total of $51,640 was appropriated for the fire department, increased from $48,465 last year.

Other Appropriations

Other departmental allotments were $6,851 for the home department, a slight increase from the $6,825 last year; $19,750 for street lighting, higher than the $18,000 in the 1971-72 budget; $13,865 for the sewer department, compared to last year's $13,506 figure; $5,880 for the recreation department, and $4,800 for fire hydrant and water for hydrants, both the same as in the previous budget.

The sum of $25,464 was appropriated for upkeep of municipal buildings, a decrease from $28,140 approved last year. $7,380 for the building inspection department, up from $6,370; $1,785 for elections, the same as in the previous budget; and for the contingency fund, also the same as last year.

A total of $50,700 was budgeted for insurance, up from $43,400 last year; $26,300 will go for maintenance of the city owned buildings, the same as in the previous budget, and $45,260 was approved for the city's industrial park compared to $44,690 appropriated for the park last year.

Other tax showing increases in the new budget are: the police pension fund, up from $38,000 to $41,600; the public library fund, increased from $17,790 to $18,760, and the civil defense fund, increasing from $1,750 to $2,500.

Funds showing decreases were the garbage and refuse fund, down from $110,019 last year, to $101,916 this year, and the playground and recreation system fund which declined from $31,441 last year to $30,147 in the new budget.

The Illinois municipal retirement fund remained at $42,000, the same as last year, and the public new budget will become effective Aug. 6. All raises for city employees will be retroactive to May 1.

The Madison County Board of Supervisors by ordinance adopted Tuesday night, the actual annual cost of the collection of taxes for all taxing bodies in the county to $1,407,106.

"This cost includes the cost of assessment, extension and collection of taxes annually of all the taxes levied by taxing bodies over the same to the county," said the ordinance.

"No provision has as yet been made by statute to provide funds to reimburse the county for renting this service of tax collection and no statutory authorization has been given to the county to levy any tax for this purpose."

"To avoid this expense being a great loss to the county, the above ordinance was adopted under the new Constitutional provision authorizing a just and equitable fixed charge to be made against all taxing bodies for the rendition of the service of tax assessment, extension and collection and directing and authorizing the county collect for to withhold such fixed charge from the general taxes due to and collectible on behalf of such taxing bodies and pay over the same to the General Corporate Fund of the county."

"The just, equitable and fixed charge for this service rendered by the county for your taxing body or district for the year of 1971, has been determined at the sum of $59,037.36, which is withheld under the authorization of said county ordinance."

"In the event that the General Assembly of the state of Illinois enact a statute in any way superseding the county ordinance, the same shall be recognized as the law to be applied in this matter."

News Notes

The highest 1972 attendance at the Mississippi River Festival at SIU-SW was reached last night when 10,000 heard the rock music of Rare Earth and the Blues Station. At the MRF Tuesday night, over 5,000 enjoyed the folk music of Brewer and Shipley, backed up guitarist-guest Nick Nichols.

The AFL-CIO executive council voted 27-3 yesterday to withhold endorsement of either presidential candidate in the 1972 election. Charles E. Pressley, George Meany commented, "I do not vote for either one of them."

Buddy Davis, Madison County official and a Democratic delegate, said he is "very cool" toward Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee.

A report filed by Cong. Melvin Price with a House committee shows he holds common stock in Mississippi River Fuel, Edgewood, Mo., Lebanon Bankshares, Lincoln Trust State Bank, Arkansas Western Bank, Texas Utilities Central Texas Electric and the Technology Fund.

A public hearing on Illinois Power Company's petition for 15% electric rate increase is set for Sept. 15 by the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield.

Announcement is expected at the end of the election campaign for two new SIU-SW classroom buildings costing $7.7 million and $4.5 million. Two members of the Governor's Construction Task Force made an unannounced visit to the campus Monday to check the sites, which are in back of the library and Peck building.

Independent Voters of Illinois directors voted Tuesday night to change their June 28 vote election to the date of the next gubernatorial election. The IVI board still rates both as qualified but now "prefers" Democrat Daniel Walker.

MORE ABOUT Treatment Plant

was submitted as "information to the council."

Text of the committee report follows:

"The Pollution Plant Committee wishes to report to the City Council on the progress of the development and financing related to the upgrading of the city's sewage treatment plant to comply with new federal and state requirements."

"The bond attorney has reported to the committee that he has obtained the contribution of approximately $90,000 by the federal government, it will be necessary that a new revenue bond issue be undertaken by the city which will finance both the unpaid balance due on the old sewer and treatment facilities and that which will be necessary to pay for the new facilities."

"The rentals paid by users under the existing bond requirements will, therefore, be cancelled and the new requirements so that the user will pay only one rental bill per period."

"The city's existing agreement on the bonds outstanding on the present treatment plant requires the refunding of those bonds before new bonds can be issued."

"The alternative to such a refunding bond issue would be the cancellation of the upgrading of the treatment plant, the application of penalties and possible injunction orders by the state and federal Environmental Protection Agencies and the loss of $90,000 in funds supplied by the federal government."

"The committee feels we have no alternative but to proceed in the manner required to accomplish the development of the new treatment facilities."

"It is proposed by the committee to arrange a meeting between the council and the bond attorney so that more detailed information may be made available to the council on this point."

"The committee also reports that it has secured a pledge of assistance from local industries, through the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities, to lend the city the services of an advisory commission on financing and engineering."

"The committee feels that the city should have the advantage of the experience and skill of the highly-trained personnel from local industries in forming" up and completing this project. The committee gratefully acknowledge this offer of assistance by our industries."

"The committee will continue to keep the council fully informed of the progress being made to secure our secondary treatment facilities."

COHEN COUPON
COUPON EXPIRES SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1972

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT C. MEIKAMP, who were married at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church. The bride is the former Miss Pamela Sue Barunica, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Barunica of Collinsville.

Pamela Sue Barunica, Robert C. Meikamp Wed

Miss Pamela Sue Barunica and Robert Charles Meikamp exchanged wedding vows in a noon ceremony on June 24 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. John Poluzzi.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Barunica of Rural Route Two, Box 738, Edwardsville. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin C. Meikamp, reside at 7370 Gerber Road, Edwardsville. They are formerly of Granite City.

For her wedding, the former Miss Barunica chose a white silk crepe gown fashioned with long tapered sleeves of Chantilly lace set in an Empire style bodice of matching lace. The skirt was long and full. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, centered with orchid carnations.

Mrs. Jack Foust, the maid of honor, and Miss Rhonda Meikamp, a sister of the groom, and Miss Debbie Barunica, the bride's sister, who served as bridesmaids, were dressed alike in orchid dotted swiss frocks.

Their dresses featured a lace trim around the V-necklines and short puffed sleeves. Each attendant carried a nosegay of orchid carnations, festooned with orchid streamers.

Richard Meikamp, a brother of the groom, was the ring-bearer and escorted the little flower girl, Melissa Dour. She wore a long orchid chiffon dress with sheer sleeves enhanced with a white trim at the cuffs and on the front bodice. She held a white basket filled with orchid carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was David Stunkel. Groomsmen and ushers included Kurt Stunkel, Randy Meikamp, a brother of the groom, Charles Thomas, the bride's uncle, and Emmett Moore.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception given in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to the Ozarks, the couple is now residing in Edwardsville.

The former Miss Barunica, a graduate of Collinsville High School, is employed at the Union Electric Co. in St. Louis.

Mr. Meikamp was graduated from Edwardsville High School and works at St. Louis Gas Co.

Shower Honors Debbie Travis

Miss Debbie Travis, who will become the bride of Ricky Singleton on July 29 at the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church, was guest of honor at a personal shower given during the weekend at the church.

Hostesses, Mrs. Sandra Dillard and Mrs. Bertha Dix, decorated the hall in aqua and orchid, colors to be used in the wedding. They directed several games, awarded prizes to the winners and served refreshments.

Guests attending were Mesdames Shirley King, Phyllis Talley, Ann Holton, Wanda Watson, Sandra Kepperside, Elaine Howard, Eliza Travis and Irene Singleton; and Misses Elaine Scott, Sheila Smith, Debbie Parker and Paula Elliott.

VISITORS HERE FROM FLORIDA, CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCabe of Buena Park, Calif., have departed for their home after spending the past two weeks visiting Mrs. McCabe's son, the bride's brother, Matt Hadaller, 2457 Benton St. Mike, Pat and Scott, the McCabe's sons, spent their wedding day here with aunts and uncles at the Hadaller home, 2508 Cleveland Blvd.

Other guests at the latter residence were Mr. and Mrs. William Murray of Kissimmee, Fla., Mrs. Marie Hamilton of Long Beach, Calif., Mrs. Ruth Hadaller and son, David, of Covington, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cunningham and son, Steven.

Students Conclude -- Convention's Rivalry Set Stage for Less Factionalism in Party

"All the confusion on the floor of the Democratic National Convention wasn't something imagined. It was a fact of life there," said John Milazzo, a student at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Milazzo is in a position to know. Unlike most persons, who saw the convention on television, Milazzo was there. He was a SIU-SW student. Carl Uetz of Wood River was on the convention floor in Miami Beach, Fla.

Milazzo and Uetz, both mass communication majors, covered the proceedings for the Astoria, SIU-SW student newspaper. They said the experience taught them much about journalism.

"You learn to work in a hurry," Milazzo said. "There's so much happening that trying to take it all in is counterproductive. You've got to be selective in your coverage."

Milazzo said everything happened so quickly on the floor that he couldn't find him if he was lost.

Keeping One Step Ahead
"I thought I'd done my homework. I thought I was ready with relevant questions. But the issues were undergoing such changes that my questions had little relevance by the time I got to them," Uetz said.

Uetz, who called the convention "the most exciting, educational experience I've ever had," said he learned a lot about politics as well as obtaining valuable journalism experience.

Uetz said he was amazed that the convention was relatively orderly despite the variety of opinions and interests represented.

Organized Confusion
"Although there was confusion at times, the organization was great," Uetz said. "The majority of delegates, especially the young ones, knew what was happening and of the time. It wasn't all unusual to see younger delegates explaining things to the older ones."

Uetz said he realized several days before nominating night that South Dakota Senator George McGovern would be the Democratic candidate.

"I was in McGovern headquarters and the feeling of optimism there was something that you could feel right away," Uetz said.

"Anyone walking into his headquarters was aware of a bond of dedication to a cause. You couldn't help but be impressed at the McGovern people."

Security Described
Uetz said security inside the convention area was so tight it would have been virtually impossible for any dissident group to disrupt the proceedings.

"There was a credential check at the main gate, and then you had to surrender your credentials at the South Hall to get into the press area."

"Secret Service" agents checked everything before you could go on the floor—they checked the lens cap on my camera, checked bulges in pockets, made sure all tape recorders and radios worked. And you went through the same thing when you left the floor."

Uetz said security outside the hall "reflected a mood of cooperation."

He said police showed the demonstrators respect, allowing them to "do pretty much as they pleased."

Milazzo said he thinks in the aftermath of the convention, much of the factionalism in the party will be eliminated.

"When I was watching some of the floor fights, I wondered whatever happened to the adage of keeping your dirty laundry in the family," Milazzo said.

In factionalism was a rampant. But with the exception of the supporters of Gov. George Wallace, I think there will be an effort to present a united front in the campaign for the presidency."

Should Bible Be Read Literally, Youths Ask

"I don't see any sense in de-mythologizing the Bible. The Bible speaks so plainly. I can accept of Christ as a man, as well as his divinity."

This was Dr. Oswald Hoffman's answer to a youth who sought an explanation of why some scholars want to demythologize the Scriptures and question whether there can be a literal interpretation.

The question and answers were given during a "rap session" at the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. Besides the Lutheran Hour speaker, who was attending a "Hurrah from God Rally" at Concordia Seminary.

The rally was planned as a part of the 55th annual Lutheran Laymen's League convention held in St. Louis, this year.

Emphasis of the rally was on youth attendance. But advance publicity for ticket sales, which offered a special buffet, resulted in more than 700 persons attending.

The rap session followed a musical program by groups from the St. Louis area, and several "special numbers" by a group of the youth delegates in attendance at the LLL convention.

Dr. Hoffman began by giving a bit of Lutheran history as he discussed the buildings surrounding the seminary quadrangle where the crowd was seated in chairs or on the lawn. One young man asked Dr. Hoffman to explain what he believed about original sin. He said it was something which was troubling him and about which people have differing opinions.

Original Sin Concept
"How can you explain the events of today," Dr. Hoffman replied, "without original sin? Prehistoric Christians were shocked by the events of World War II in Germany, because they could not accept original sin which brings out the worst in man. We're in a moral mess today," he added, "because of our humanity."

Earlier, Dr. Hoffman was asked, "If you could be whoever you wanted to be, who would you want to be?"

The Lutheran Hour speaker said he had never thought about such a possibility so he "really doesn't know how to answer. But I'll tell you this: Let God take your life and you'll be the happiest. Accept yourself as Christ has accepted you—as you are."

Then he turned and asked the same question of his inquirer: "I'd like to be me, because I like me," was the reply.

Faith to Solve Problems
At the end, Dr. Hoffman asked for a "last question" and Debbie Seaver of Crestwood came to the microphone and said she had a statement, not a question. She told the group that the world was full of problems, but "we've got to remember that God is with us. We must put our faith in Him."

Dr. Hoffman, after quipping that whenever some people see a microphone or a crowd they have to make a statement, added the comment that young people today know how to come out and proclaim what they believe.

"This is good," he said, "it's what the church must do, and the one thing the church has got to proclaim is Jesus Christ."

Lady of Snows to Show 'Wizard of Oz'

The Outdoor Amphitheater at Our Lady of the Snows Shrine, Belleville, Illinois will be transformed into the enchanting land of Oz, on July 26, 27 and 28 when an acting group under the guidance of Father Allen Mares, O.M.I., will present the musical, "The Wizard of Oz," starting at 8:30 each night.

The Wizard of Oz has thrilled countless adult and children's audiences for many years. The story was immortalized as a movie starring Judy Garland, Lurt Bahr and Ray Bolger.

It's the tale of a Kansas farm girl, Dorothy, who is swept away with her dog by a tornado and finds herself in a strange land. There she meets Tinman, Cowardly Lion and Scarecrow. They join together following the Yellow Brick Road to many adventures in the kingdom of Oz.

"The Wizard of Oz," musical score includes the unforgettable song "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and "We're Off to See the Wizard."

Cast in the role of Dorothy is Lisa Sauer; Tinman, Jim Moreton; Cowardly Lion, Whit Reichert; Scarecrow, Dick Colton; Wicked Witch, Nancy Paule; and Jim Thomas will be the Wizard of Oz. Direction is by Gary Gardner, a producer of original plays at the University of Texas, Austin.

Our Lady of the Snows Shrine is located on U. S. 460, just west of Belleville. There will be no admission for the performances.

Venice School Board Lists Job Contracts

Contracts awarded for projects in the Venice School District were reported in an abbreviated open meeting of the Venice Board of Education Monday evening. A lengthy executive session followed.

A contract was awarded to Ed Moore Construction Co., on a low bid of $13,550 for construction projects at the Venice School under the Life Safety Code. A second bidder, M. H. Wolfe Co., set a figure of $16,910.

Also awarded was the school bus service contract to Bi-State Transit System for the 1972-73 academic year on a bid of $105,700 per day, and charter rates of $4.65 per hour, plus 35 cents a mile.

The only other bidder was School Transportation Inc., whose rates were bid at $162 for daily service and $4.60 charter rates, plus 34 cents per mile.

Repair work to the fence at the Venice School on Broadway was let to John Bousharden on a $152 bid. Another bid was received from Granite City Fence Co. for $225.

Contracts for resurfacing and improvements to the parking area at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center were not awarded due to financial difficulties, it was learned.

Also in action taken at a special meeting, the First National Bank in Madison was designated the depository for Venice School District funds during 1972-73.

Venice Supl. of Schools John O. Pier advised board members Monday that a team of evaluators from the North Central High School Accreditation Association will visit the Venice school system April 23-

24. A delegation representing the Illinois Office of Public Instruction will tour the schools during the same April period, he noted.

Board members approved an agreement with Triangle Typewriter Co., Granite City, to clean, repair and adjust 20 typewriters at a cost of $14.50 per machine, and requisitions totaling $289 for supplies at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center also were approved.

The resignations were accepted of two faculty members, Roxie E. Taylor and Margaret Judith Reidelberger. Permission was granted the Newport Homecoming Association to conduct a field and track meet at the Venice schools athletic field in connection with the group's second annual celebration, set Sept. 24.

Reports on Homecoming Headquarters for the homecoming observance will be at Lee Park in Venice, according to Howard Silas, sports coordinator for the Newport Association. All area youth will be invited to take part in the sports meet, he told the board.

Balances in district funds were reported as: Education—$14,614; building—$13,614; IMRF (retirement)—$11,768; bonds and interest—$16,074; transportation—$7,650; junior college—$8,261; fire and safety—$19,829; and special education—$3,825.

Transfer of $2,500 from the education fund to the revolving fund was authorized, bringing the fund to $2,516. The activity fund balance was listed at $780 and the restricted fund at $1,047.

A closed meeting between board members and officers of Building Services Employees Union involving staff rejust-ments at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center was conducted prior to the general session. An executive session, beginning at 8:30 p.m. Monday, concerned the assignment of school personnel.

No official action was taken on either topic during the regular meeting.

Shelby Changes Plea To Guilty of Murder

Dickie Lee Shelby, 23, of 11 Snow Bird Lane, changed his plea to guilty Monday in Circuit Court at Edwardsville to the murder of Ronald Kinneer, 32, of McLeansboro, a groundsman at Fairmount Park Race Track. Shelby is to be sentenced Aug. 28.

Two 18-year-old Collinsville youths indicted with Shelby have pleaded guilty to charges of involuntary manslaughter in the case. The two, Glen Morris, 19, and Richard K. Providence, 19, also are awaiting sentencing.

Kinneer's body was found in September on Old Black Lane near the race track. Police said he had been beaten with a blunt instrument, possibly a tire tool.

The state's attorney's office contended that robbery was the probable motive. The minimum sentence of 14 years imprisonment was recommended.

Shelby is represented by Attorney Dick Allen of Granite City. 6TH-MADISON MISHAP Autos driven by William E. Webb, 1908 Rhodes St., Madison, and Glen L. Inman, 2018 Palmer Ave., collided at Sixth and Madison Ave., Madison, at 9:27 a.m. Tuesday.

Stricter Control Of Timber Buying Ethics Enacted

Copley News Service
Springfield—It isn't easy to play "now you see it, now you don't" with full grown trees, but it was being done with noteworthy success in Illinois until recently by some unscrupulous timber buyers.

Not any more. Licensing regulations covering people who buy and cut other people's timber are in effect, and constantly being tightened, as part of the nation's first comprehensive timber buyers' licensing operation.

John Sester, staff forester in the Illinois conservation department, estimates that Illinois has three and a half million acres in timber, producing lumber cut at 230 sawmills throughout the state.

The department annually issues licenses, at $30 each, to 360 to 375 individuals and firms. But since the firm's one license covers all of the operation's individual buyers, Sester estimates there may be as many as 800 actual buyers purchasing timber in Illinois.

The department also licenses out-of-state buyers, annually distributing licenses to about 40 of these. A couple of years ago, there was even one issued to a timber buyer from Italy.

With that many buyers, Sester says, it's inevitable that a few who are less than gentlemen should be interested in the business, particularly when a single walnut trunk today may be worth up to $500, or producing even more, depending on size and quality.

Until the licensing law was adopted, one of the favorite plays of the crooked buyer was the "cut now, pay later" approach, under which the buyer agreed to cut a farmer's trees, take them to the mill and then pay the farmer a percentage on the board feet produced.

Unfortunately, some buyers found their way to the mills all right, but they forgot to find their way back to the farmer, and pocketed the entire proceeds instead.

Others came back with sawmill receipts, and paid up as promised—but just forgot to mention the other half of the load they took to a different sawmill.

Unethical buyers have also "accidentally" crossed over onto someone else's tract and removed trees, while still others sneak in during the night with muffled power saws and actually pirate trees.

One case was reported where two walnut trees were brazenly removed from the lawn of a woman on vacation.

Under current Illinois law, licensed buyers receive identification cards showing they are licensed and have posted bond (between $500 and $10,000).

YOUTH WORKERS. Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) workers have been helping keep Granite City clean and will continue the nine-week work program until Aug. 18. Standing, left to right, are Paul Niebur and Charles M. Hayes representing the Associated Retailers and Civic Association (ARCA), which helps sponsor the program; William Hogue, Jack

Libraries Offering Art Prints on 6-Week Loan

The Granite City and Venice Public Libraries, members of the Lewis and Clark Library Systems, have collections of art prints available for loan to patrons of the library.

The prints are described as tastefully framed and ready for Bond is set at 10% of the amount of timber purchased the previous year.

Owners with complaints were given an additional break recently when the department proposed an amendment under which owners can go directly to court seeking recovery out of the bond, if the department fails to act satisfactorily on a complaint.

Buyers who do not have a license can be fined from $100 to $1,000 for buying timber without a license, with possible jail sentences of up to six months.

So far, 62 arrests have been made and one man was sentenced to jail when he said he could not pay a fine. After a few days, he decided he could pay, and was released.

The Illinois law is considered such a pace-setter that it has been adopted word for word (except for changing the state's name) by Indiana, and Iowa is considering using it as well.

To further tighten control, the department also has proposed amendments under which buyers who are stopped on the road with logs must be able to prove ownership. Otherwise, the department will confiscate the trunks and attempt to find the owner, so he at least will benefit from the cutting of his trees.

hanging: "They are quality reproductions and would grace the wall of any home or office."

The Lewis and Clark Library System has placed its collection of over 400 prints into 30 different collections. These will rotate among the 26 member libraries.

Each library will have a different collection every four months. Framed prints will be checked out to patrons for six-week periods with a limit of two prints per adult card.

Camp Sunnen Praised By Area Scout Director

"We should be bringing other people here to see this camp, rather than inspecting it," Jack Armstrong, area three director of the North Central Region, Boy Scouts of America, said during an inspection tour of Camp Sunnen.

Camp Sunnen, located near Potosi, Mo., is the official camp of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

An inspection booklet listing 117 separate inspection points covering facilities, program, feeding, sanitation, health and safety are checked by the inspectors. Camp Sunnen received a perfect score of 117 points.

"Any boy that would not want to spend a week in this camp must have something wrong with him," Stanley M. Richmond, president of the American Life Insurance Co., St. Louis, and volunteer regional camp inspector for the Boy Scouts of America, remarked while accompanying Armstrong on the inspection tour.

Camp Sunnen was founded in 1953 as the official camp of the local Scout council. It gained national recognition afterward when in 1955 the camp converted to patrol cooking entirely eliminating central feeding.

The camp will begin the sixth week of the current season Sunday with 142 Scouts, junior leaders and adult leaders participating.

Attending from this area will be Troop 9, sponsored by the Kirkpatrick Housing Authority, Donald Heath, leader; a troop of Scouts Donald and Kenneth Wren, Billy Hull, John Valle, Phillip Ramsey, George Smith, Marcus Law, Gary Caughron, Howard Richardson and William Gaines.

The Cahokia Mound Council with offices at 1338a Niedringhaus Ave., serves scouts in the southern half of Madison County and all of Bond County.

New Illinois Law Includes Tough Rules to Discourage Racing Fraud

By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE
If it's possible to legislate against shady dealings, we have taken a huge step forward in Illinois in regulating and controlling racetrack activity.

Spurred by the ominous disclosures of the dealings that went on in the 1980s, our legislators have given the Illinois Racing Board the toughest rules of any state in the union. They put into law some of the administrative decisions of Chairman Alex MacArthur, who has been an implacable foe of the kind of shenanigans that used to plague Illinois racing. In addition, the state has taken over the police function at Illinois tracks.

Again, this legislation backs our present Racing Board to the hilt in its efforts to ferret out fixed races; bribed jockeys or owners, and some of the dismal conditions in the barns and exercise areas of tracks in Illinois.

There may be loopholes in the tough laws I approved, but you'd have to be twisted like a corkscrew to find them, in my opinion.

Rep. David Regner of Mount Prospect observed recently that racing seems to attract "undesirable elements and provides many opportunities to defraud."

That isn't to say that there are not honorable men and women in considerable numbers interested in horse racing.

But it seems to me our job as public officials is to work relentlessly to stop these "opportunities to defraud," both for the protection of the public and the honorable people in racing.

It should be noted that the impetus for the legislation I signed was a thoroughly aroused citizenry thoroughly disgusted at the events of the past.

Here's what the legislation will do:
Disclosure: Any person who stands in any way to gain from a racing date must be disclosed to the Racing Board, and this information becomes a public record.

There will be no hiding behind trusts or attorneys or dummies under this law—some of the devices used in the past to conceal the real beneficiaries of corruption in racing.

The law applies also to anyone who has an interest, 1% or greater, in any profit-making activity connected with racing, such as concessions or even the firm that sells the hay for the horses.

Political contributions: None of the firms or persons covered by the first section of the law may contribute to any person in public office or any candidate for office.

Ownership transfers: All changes in racetrack ownership amounting to 25% or more—or involving the controlling interest, no matter how small—must be approved by the Racing Board.

Thus the board for the first time is in the driver's seat, and in a position to enforce the standards it deems to be in the public interest.

Penalties: For each offense, a fine of not less than $10,000 nor more than $20,000, and the possibility of a jail sentence of as much as one year.

Penalties against the board itself: This is one of the most stringent features of this hard-hitting legislation.

If the board fails to disclose violations, members of the board are subjected to the same penalties as the violators. I have the utmost confidence in Chairman MacArthur, but he will not be serving 20 years from now. And unless the chairman at that time can change the laws, he will be under the gun to come clean with the public.

armed and had no real legal power to make arrests.

Instead, the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement takes on the job, and can bring its full resources to this difficult task.

MacArthur tells me, he expects the changeover to yield vastly improved results.

For example, he points out, the constant efforts to dope horses involves the highest possible degree of sophistication.

"They're already using the drugs of tomorrow on races today—drugs that don't even have a name."

"With the labs and full resources of the state our disposal, we're better matched in this fight with the crooks," MacArthur reports. He adds:

"Just this week we have a positive finding of a new heart drug administered to a horse, thanks to excellent police work."

Conditions in the barns, under MacArthur are going to meet his standards—or else. He recalls:

"A discharged stablehand, drunk and smoking in the barn, recently caused more than two dozen helpless horses to burn to death."

"With armed, professional state law enforcement personnel on the job, we are going to clean up the back stretch."

I would add only this: Major credit for passage of the legislation I wanted should go to Rep. Regner, Sen. William Harris of Pontiac, and Rep. Arthur Telser of Chicago.

They acted truly in the interest of the public.

New Road Rules Book To Aid Licensees

Drivers whose renewal notices inform them that they must take the drivers license examination will receive a copy of the new, revised Rules of the Road booklet, the state's driver manual, Secretary of State John W. Lewis has announced.

Previously, those drivers received only the renewal notice, and were left to their own devices to obtain study material to prepare for the examination, he said.

Some special printing and mechanical procedures remain to be completed, but it is expected that the project can be started by Aug. 1, Lewis said.

To keep postage costs to a minimum, the booklet will be forwarded by third class mail a week prior to mailing the renewal notice, which is first class mail, the Secretary explained. A note stating that the booklet is being sent under separate cover will accompany the renewal notice.

In addition, Secretary Lewis said, drivers receiving renewal notices which do not require them to be examined at this time will be given an opportunity to get a copy of the Rules of the Road booklet, so that they may keep informed about changes in the state's laws affecting the ownership and operation of motor vehicles and new developments in road markings.

Drivers not required to take the examination at renewal time will receive a post card with their notices which they may mail to the Secretary of State's office, and a copy of the booklet will be sent by return mail.

Supplies of the new booklet are currently being distributed to Drivers License Examining Stations throughout the state and are being made available to other organizations upon request, such as banks, newspaper offices, automobile dealers and currency exchanges.

Such requests, as well as those by individual motorists, may be directed to the Shipping Division of the Secretary of State's office, Centennial building, Springfield 62756.

Three Injured in Auto Accident on 22nd Street

Mr. and Mrs. David E. Bess, 3501 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, and their 11-month-old daughter, Christine, were admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after their auto and the car of Michael Papp, 2155 State St., collided at 22nd Street and Madison Avenue at 2:45 p.m. Monday. Papp was charged with making an improper turn.

Mr. Bess, 34, complained of pain to both knees and his head. His wife Mary Jane, 26, suffered an injury to her right knee. X-rays were taken. The daughter was examined and admitted for observation.

CRUMPLED FRONT END of a 1971 car belonging to Wilma Schulze, a physical education teacher, after it was struck by the falling boom of a 110-ton crawler crane owned by the S. M. Wilson contracting firm. The crane toppled over here when ground shifted beneath its tracks at Granite City High School. The photo was taken by Bruce Sims, a summer school student, and Buddy Ryan.

TOPPLED TREE. A large tree in the back yard at 5109 Rapp Road, home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner, was snapped off by high winds during the weekend. The tree damaged the Turner house, automobile and power lines. Part of it was blown across the street breaking out two windows in a neighbor's home.

Lawn & Garden

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Extension Adviser,
Ornamental Horticulture
St. Clair and Madison Counties

FLASHY CHOICE SHADE

Coleus will thrive in shade areas while the flashy leaves provide color and variety. Trays of small plants in your garden store will display the variety of colors you can have in the shadows of your house and small trees. Groups of two or three plants, planted 12" apart will produce the best effect.

Adequate moisture and a little fertilizer are the final ingredients for success. Be certain the plants are in partial shade.

Snapping off the tip of each plant when you transplant will insure branching and an attractive small bush. Occasional snapping of the tips of the branches will maintain a compact plant and insure continued growth. Do not let the plants produce flowers.

TRY PERIWINKLE IN THE SUN

Periwinkle thrives in full sun and hot weather to produce rich purple foliage and continuous flowers.

Periwinkle (commonly sold as Vicia) is a low bushy plant that gradually enlarges to become 24" in diameter and 15" high. Dark green foliage contributes to the landscape scene while it produces a sharp contrast to attractive bright flowers. Continuous flowers from June to October puts the petunia to shame. The color range is limited to white or pink and combinations of the two.

Garden stores sell periwinkle as transplants. At this season you will be unimpressed by the scrawny plants and lack of flowers.

NEEDLE DROP OF JAPANESE YEW

Needle drop in May and June is related to the weather. Sudden yellowing and simultaneous drop of needle on the inside of the plant seemed a sure sign of a disaster. But careful examination shows it is not due to insects but related to last winter's weather. Winter injury to the needles caused this abnormal needle drop while the new growth and last year's needles are a healthy green.

Special treatment for these suspicious plants is not necessary. Every indication suggests the plants are surviving and developing normal size and growth. Check them for spiders to confirm these observations and conclusions.

OFF COLORED EVERGREENS

Red spiders can suddenly produce a sickly green appearance on Junipers, Spruce and Japanese yews.

An unhealthy color and poor growth are common symptoms of red spiders. New growth will be somewhat stunted while old needles are light colored and begin to thin out. Needle drop is common.

Red spiders are hard to see unless you use a magnifying glass or shake them on to a piece of white paper. Hold a large piece of white paper under the limb and sharply tap the limb with a stick. The spiders will fall on the paper and start to scurry around. If you have to bruise up the whole shrub to find a few, then mites aren't the problem. When you find several from each limb control is important.

Control is rather simple if you use dicofol (Kelthane) and chlorobenzilate at the manufacturer's directions. Two applications, at two week intervals, is recommended. The shrubs must be soaked with the spray mixture. Some gardeners get mite control by frequently hosing off the infested shrubs. A strong stream of water is necessary to be effective.

KNOTWEED CONTROL IN LAWNS

Knotweed is developing into the familiar wiry mat you saw last year along driveways and sidewalks.

Knotweed is the small green plant in thin spots with narrow strap-like leaves and a wiry root. It quickly becomes a competitor with bluegrass and prevents bluegrass from creeping into nearby thin spots.

One application of a broad-leaf weed killer that contains dicamba or MCPP will control this developing pest. Immediate control will eliminate the competition while fertilizer promotes rapid growth and spread of your bluegrass.

Grass management in May is a juggling act to promote bluegrass while you control the turf you have to control crabgrass. If you have a thin grass and knotweed while bluegrass gradually takes over.

SUMMER TREE CARE
Borers are a natural threat to trees weakened by transplanting or natural disasters. Borers naturally occur in Birch, Dogwood, Maple, Lilac and flowering fruit trees. Natural control of borers occurs when trees are vigorous and free of injuries. Whenever a tree loses its advantage these insects can invade and cause a tree to die.

Spray monthly with dimethoate, (Cygon or De-Fend), through late July.

SIU-SW Retiree Favors 'Humanistic Philosophy'

Dr. Mylan Smyers says the adoption of a humanistic philosophy by students and educators is one of the major changes he has observed during his 41 years in the field.

Smyers, an associate professor at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern is retiring this summer, ending a career that began in 1931 as a music teacher at Elkhart (Ind.) Community High School. A retirement dinner for Smyers, sponsored by the SIU-SW secondary education department, will be held at 5:30 p.m. July 27 in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center.

"Concern for the student, with more attention being paid to individuals, is part of what I call the humanistic philosophy," Smyers said. "I think this philosophy is being accepted now."

Smyers, 64, said overorganization and bigness of many schools today is inconsistent with the humanists' desire to stress individual attention in education.

"I think me might see a turning away from bigness in education as the humanistic philosophy becomes more accepted," he said.

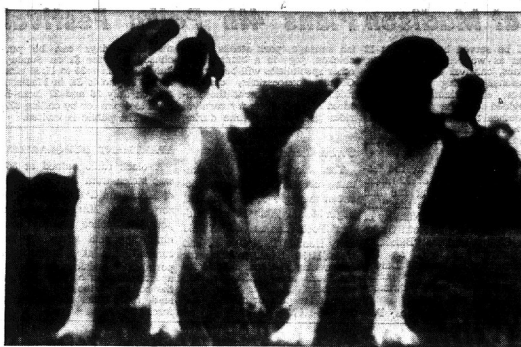

Smyers came to SIU-SW in 1959 and started teaching at the University's St. Louis campus. He said he taught courses in almost every subject area while a faculty was being recruited.

Smyers, of Alton, has taught many students, and he said a large number of them went on to become faculty members at SIU-SW or teachers in area schools.

"The most satisfying thing for me is to go into schools around here and talk with all the teachers who I once taught," he said. "It's almost like old homesickness week."

Before coming to SIU-SW, Smyers held many different positions in the field of education. After teaching music and physical education at Elkhart for six years, he moved to Westfield (Ill.) Township High School, where he taught music and history. His next move was to Kaskaskia Community High School, where he served as principal in addition to teaching music and history.

Looking back on his full career, Smyers said, "After my retirement, I plan to retire. I hope to travel with my wife and enjoy life as much as I can."

Jayne Kay Dugleroff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil H. Dugleroff, 3902 Franklin Ave., has received her master of arts degree from the University of Denver in library science. June Canal Freight Aids Record Year

Freight tonnage shipped through the Chain of Rocks Locks and Canal in June decreased slightly from the all-time record set at the locks in May but the total for the first half of 1972 indicates it may be a record year.

The June total was 5,142,448 tons compared to the May record of 5,430,775 tons. The total last month exceeds the shipments of 4,716,356 tons recorded in June 1971.

Shipments last month brought total tonnage shipped through the locks in the first half of this year to 26,339,223 tons, substantially higher than the 22,451,641 tons shipped during the same period of last year.

Exceed 1970 figures. Shipments during the period also are exceeding the 23,294,053 tons reported in the first half of 1970, a record year.

In 1970, shipments for the year totaled 50,747,918 tons. If the present trend continues, 1972 may top the record by more than 5,000,000 tons by the end of December. Shipments in 1971 totaled 48,765,945 tons.

The June figure included 5,142,348 tons of commercial freight and 100 tons of government freight.

Total Vessels. A total of 6,331 ships passed through the locks in June, fewer than the 6,812 recorded in May but higher than the 6,027 vessels locked through in June 1971.

The numbers of all types of ships declined in June from the previous month with the exception of private recreation boats, increasing from 167 to 187, and government patrol boats which remained at 16.

Tow boat movements declined from 1,155 to 1,071, passenger boats were down from four to two, barges showed a decrease from 5,444 to 5,047. U.S. contractor boats went from five to zero, government tow boats declined from 10 to zero, government barges were off from nine to eight and government construction boats were down from two to zero.

Lockages declined from 1,656 in May to 986 in June. Lockages in June 1971 totaled 11,031. A total of 5,555 lockages in the first half of this year exceeds the 5,266 in the same period of

Renting a Camper First Is Considered Best Bet

By JEFF CUSHING
Copley News Service

Fifteen years ago if you wanted to go camping you had two choices: a sleeping bag and a tent or a cumbersome trailer into which you could cram yourself, your wife and two kids and maybe even the dog if you planned it right.

Camping has become a lot more sophisticated since then.

It has become a lot more popular too, as millions upon millions of Americans pour out into the countryside each summer.

Today, besides that musty sleeping bag or box trailer, vacationers can choose from a glass pop-up tent trailers that tow behind the family buggy with ease, or sleek slide-on camper units that fit onto the bed of a pickup truck.

For the ultimate in vacation travel there is the motorhome, a kind of motel on wheels featuring such amenities as hot and cold running water, shower stalls, air conditioning and four channel stereo.

To purchase any of these units — they are called RVs (Recreational Vehicles) by the n-crowd — requires quite an investment, ranging anywhere from about $1,000 (tent trailer) up to $20,000 (deluxe motorhome).

But with the surge in popularity of such units has grown a blossoming rental business. For those not ready to take the financial plunge into RV ownership, a rental is by far the best way to go.

"I think anyone is crazy to dive into anything stone cold," says RV dealer Bert Ward.

"There's an old saying that a fool and his money are soon parted, but if it happens in this business, you end with more than an unsatisfied customer; you get a guy who will bad-mouth motor camping, until he's blue in the face. And that sure doesn't help our image at all."

Ward and many other RV dealers strongly recommend to customers who are undecided about a motorhome or camper that they rent one for a week or so.

"We're betting that once they try it, they'll like it," says Ward. "On the other hand, they're a lot better off finding

50,000 Drivers Fail

Last year alone, over 50,000 Illinois licensed drivers failed the state written examination. This year the number of drivers that will fail could jump to a hundred thousand or more. Experts say — "One reason is, that rules and regulations change, and even the good safe drivers just don't keep up with the new laws." If your license expires this year, you may be among the hundreds of thousands that will be re-examined in 1972. So if you're nervous about taking the state written exam, here's out they DON'T like it if they're only renting."

All things considered, RV rentals are not too expensive. Although rates vary slightly in some locations, a tent trailer will cost you about $75 a week. It will sleep six to eight people, have a barbecue stove, icebox and other standard gear.

And it is light enough to be towed by most compact cars or pickup trucks.

A pickup truck-camper combination will run about $100 per week and six cents per mile. You must supply your own gas and insurance, available from your company for about $1.50 a day.

These units will sleep up to six persons and are fully equipped with everything you'll need for a comfortable vacation.

Motorhomes range in price from around $175 on up to $200 per week, depending on the size of the unit.

Rates are generally six cents a mile and you supply gas and insurance.

If you are not able to find what you want through normal rental channels, you can always place an ad in the classified section of your local newspaper.

Often, RV owners use their units only three or four times a year and would be glad to pick up some spare change from an occasional outside rental from a responsible party.

But check with your insurance company first before you head out for unknown vistas. Without the proper coverage, your trip could turn into a nightmare.

One common mistake that many RV renters make is that they take off on their trip totally unfamiliar with the rig. Whether you're towing a tent trailer or driving a 27-foot motorhome, you should learn as much about the equipment as you can before you start off.

"We give all our customers a test drive before we'll let them to rent a unit," says one RV dealer.

"And there is a checklist and a manual that goes with each camper that the customer can turn to if trouble arises. But it is still up to him to keep the unit in good operating order."

Q. This isn't a question, really. I just wanted to thank you for your recent article about helmet safety.

We have a son whose life was saved because he wore the right kind of helmet.

He was riding his cycle when a car pulled out in front of him. His head hit the back end of the automobile and put a dent in the trunk lid big enough to hold two dozen eggs. But because he was wearing a helmet he only hurt his arms and legs. Maybe other sons will be saved after reading your story. — Mrs. J. B., California.
A. Enough said. Thank you, Mrs. B.

good news. You can now purchase your own "self-scoring" test papers, complete with questions, answers and road signs you should know for that important examination day. This method has helped thousands pass the state exam. Instructors price just $6 plus 3 cents handling. (Check or money order only.) Mail to AA-AA School of Safe Driving, 2004 N. Monthly Shipments of Steel Hit a 1972 High

Washington — Domestic producers shipped more steel in May than in any previous month this year, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

During May, U. S. mills sent their customers 8,121,000 tons of steel—a climb of nearly half a million tons over April's 7,622,000 ton total.

The increase resulted from a general across-the-board boost in shipments to major steel-consuming industries.

Although the automotive industry continues to be the largest single mill customer, May's shipments to steel service centers were greater than the month's shipments to automakers and their suppliers.

Reservation Deadline

Tomorrow is the deadline for reservations to be made for the Granite City Park District's special trip to Wednesday's Municipal Opera presentation of the play "1776". The cost of tickets and round-trip bus transportation from Wilson Park is $5.40 per person.

Through the first five months of 1972, domestic steelmakers had shipped 36,736,000 tons of mill products. During this period, shipments of tool and stainless steels continued to better the pace they set in the January-May period of 1971.

Regional Report -- Business, Plant, Government Activity Shows Upturn

Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation

While area news has been overshadowed by the interest focused on the Democratic party convention in Florida and the upcoming Republican convention, new business developments announced promise significant changes for this region.

Midwest Rubber Reclaiming Co. in Sauget revealed plans for expenditures totaling more than $1 million, both at its local plant and at a second plant in Georgia.

Funds will be used locally to expand custom mixing capacity and to modernize facilities.

2 Named to Pollution Board, Currie Stays

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has appointed two new members and reappointed David F. Currie as chairman of the Illinois Pollution Control Board.

New members to the five-member board are State Rep. Donald A. Henss (R-Moline) replacing Dr. Samuel K. Aldrich, and John L. Parker of Joliet, replacing Richard J. Kissel.

Rep. Henss is completing his third term in the Illinois House of Representatives and has served as chairman of the House Higher Education Committee. Parker is an attorney and registered professional engineer. He has served as a hearing officer for the board.

Dr. Aldrich is returning to his post as a professor of agriculture at the University of Illinois and Kissel has accepted an appointment in the Department of Local Government Affairs.

The board this week extended deadlines for operating permits on industrial air pollution control equipment and emission sources one month, due to late adoption of new state-wide air regulations by the board.

When completed, the new program will bring total space at the Belleville college to about 213,000 square feet. Changes were made in the communications field. Radio station WESL of East St. Louis began operations on a 24-hours-per-day basis. The city has been without a radio outlet for eight years.

The Belleville News-Democrat is now operating under its new president and publisher, John E. Shuff Jr., who replaces retiring editor and publisher Robert L. Kern. Shuff's appointment is a result of the recent merger of the News-Democrat with Capital Cities Broadcasting Corp.

The National Park Service, with the aid of an outside consulting firm, is expected to start an East St. Louis riverfront study within 30 days.

The study is expected to result in development of a master plan for development of a 55-acre national park on the riverfront between Interstate 55-70 and the Eads Bridge.

The grant monies will be used specifically for planning programs to help keep municipalities eligible for federal funds for local-level projects.

The Environmental Task Force of the Council endorsed a $12.2 million project which will provide sewers for Nameoki, Venice, and Chouteau Townships in Madison County.

The Task Force also approved a preliminary statement on the environmental effects of a proposed six-lane freeway in Monroe County near the location of the proposed major airport.

The St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority appointed that the firms of Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates, Inc., of St. Louis and Lester B. Knight and Associates, Inc., of Chicago will coordinate work on the master plan for the new airport near Waterloo.

The two firms are expected to make detailed recommendations which will guide the long-range physical development of the airport. The Authority also announced hiring of William B. Reeves of Cincinnati as director of planning.

Final approval for the $3.9 million Phase II A development program of the Belleville Area College was granted by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. Detailed plans and specifications can now be submitted for a bid call, possibly late this summer.

When completed, the new program will bring total space at the Belleville college to about

Folk Music Pervades Williams Symphonies

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

Folk songs, or what sometimes is called "national music," fascinated the English composer, Ralph Vaughan Williams.

Over a long, immensely productive career (he died in 1958 at the age of 86) he dipped liberally into the folk music of his native country. Traces of folk music run through all of his nine symphonies.

Andre Previn and the London Symphony Orchestra undertook the ambitious task of recording all nine of the symphonies, starting with "A Sea Symphony" in 1959 in E Minor.

The recordings are distributed in the United States by RCA.

Previn, a pianist known more for his work in the States in intricate jazz style, succeeds admirably in the role of conductor (Previn's early training was in classical music).

He brings forth from the orchestra the full richness and sonority of Vaughan Williams' music.

"A London Symphony" (LSC-3282) is especially interesting because it was written in London, and there are few in touring America these days who have not.

Vaughan Williams' London is far different than the raucous, crowded city of today.

There is in the symphony the musical impression of the cry of a London peddler. Today, it is doubtful that a Londoner could be heard above the urban clamor.

This was the London that Vaughan Williams knew in the first decade of this century and there is in the slow sections of his symphony a placid calm of leisurely Sunday afternoon that traffic-clogged London knows no more.

One also feels in this symphony the strength and power that at that time rested in his country which ruled one of the world's greatest empires.

Anyone who has seen the dark, rich green of an English countryside will recall the impression when he hears Vaughan Williams' gorgeous, impressionistic tone poem, "Pastoral Symphony" (LSC-3281).

Although the orchestral style clearly shows the influence of Ravel and Debussy, the symphony is purely English because of its bedrock foundation on folk music.

Vaughan Williams probably was the first composer to so clearly and articulately acknowledge his debt to folk music.

He was an expert on English folk songs and wrote a book and lectured extensively about them.

He once wrote: "I do hold that any school of national music must be fashioned on the basis of the raw material of its own national song."

"The great masters of music have never hesitated to build on folk song material when they wished to."

"Build" is the key word. A Vaughan Williams symphony is by no means merely a collection of folk songs.

Rather, the imagery and flavor of folk music is present in his tone poems.

This is especially noticeable in his "Three Portraits from 'The England of Elizabeth'" (LSC-3280), a distillation of soundtrack music that Vaughan Williams wrote to illustrate a movie on Elizabethan England.

Echoes of such Elizabethan folk tunes as "Carman's Whistle" and "John, Come Kiss Me Now" are heard once again.

It is hard to realize that Vaughan Williams wrote his Symphony No. 9 when he was in his 80s.

It is a vigorous, lusty work which also demonstrated that Vaughan Williams had not become fixed in his musical habits.

He introduced a trio of saxophones and a flugelhorn. This amused some critics and brought forth the reply from the composer to their jibes that the flugelhorn was a "beautiful and neglected instrument" while the saxophones were being allowed to become "their own romantic selves."

As in most cases where critic and composer differed, time has sided with the composer.

"Donny Hathaway Live," on Aco Records, is a dynamite album that explodes soul and funk.

Donny's got a lot to say and he gets his message across in his own clear, sweet, yet dynamic style.

On this LP soul lovers will dig on "The Ghetto," "Hey Girl," "What's Goin' On," "Little Ghetto Boy," plus many more fine goodies.

Whoever picked out the name for Kim Fowley's new album, "I'm Bad," on Capitol Records, was right on.

Kim's effort here is really bad—his voice is raspy and un-musical and his lyrics are utterly without taste.

The musicians are competent and would have had a decent album if Fowley hadn't made it to the recording studio.

Dennis Rousseau's "On the Green Side of My Mind" on the MGM label is much too heavy for most music lovers.

Rousseau's high, quivering voice is not without appeal but one album of it is too much at one time.

Side two of the LP has a couple of nice cuts on it that tend to give the platter some merit.

"End Of The Line" and "O My Friends You've Been True to Me" are refreshing and interesting surprises after a tiresome side one.

Don McLean, Carol Hall, Yes, Eagles Will Be Starred at River Festival July 25-26

The folk-pop-rock music events at the Mississippi River Festival at SIU-SW next week will start out with popular singer Don McLean and the added attraction of vocalist Carol Hall on Tuesday, July 25, at 8:30 p.m.

The following night, Wednesday, July 26, at 8:30, the rock groups Yes and Eagles will perform.

Song writer and performer Don McLean has been on the musical scene for many years but only recently did his top hit, "American Pie," bring him to the forefront.

So meaningful and powerful are his song lyrics that Robert Elstrom (who made the films "Johnny Cash: His Music and His World" and "O'J's and Voices," which was nominated for an Academy Award) has decided to make a feature film using 22 of Don's songs as a script.

Featured at Bitter End in addition to frequent television appearances and extensive college concerts, Don McLean has performed at the country's top clubs, such as the Bitter End and Gaslight in New York.

His festival appearances include the Newport Folk Festival and three performances at the Central Park Music Festival.

While admittedly a folk singer, McLean considers himself to be basically a writer.

Of his dozens of songs, each one is significantly different. Regardless of the medium he writes in—folk, blues or ballads—McLean brings something new.

He has been described as "a performer of distinct artistry who evokes a mood through the delicate balance of lyric and instrumental interpretation."

Compassion for Life—He sings about the life we lead everyday, and he has a compassion for what he sees. He is humorous as he is serious.

McLean's background centers around the 164-year old town of Cold Spring-on-Hudson.

"I live here because it's close to nature," he has said. He works for numerous ecology organizations as well as for other things he believes in. He is considered by some critics to be in the same class as Bob Dylan, Pete Seeger and Arlo Guthrie.

Appearing with McLean Tuesday will be vocalist Carol Hall, who has two albums currently available: "Beads and Feathers" and "If I Be Your Lady."

Rich, Original Sound—The British rock group Yes, appearing on Wednesday night, July 26, is noted for its original sound—which has been described as "a rich, colorful tapestry of varying moods and textures."

Although they have been together for several years playing club and concerts dates, it wasn't until the advent of "The Yes Album" (winner of the Album of the Year award in the "Sounds" poll) that they won total public acceptance.

As an orchestral rock band from England, they have no peers.

Spectators at their rehearsals or recording sessions are frequently baffled at the way ideas materialize and lock together as if by some form of psychic power.

Each member is quite determined how his own instrument should sound and be played, and the role it should take.

In addition to two earlier albums, entitled "Yes" and "Time and a Word," they have the best-selling LP "Fragile."

The Eagles, a quartet of rock and roll musicians, singers and composers, will open the Yes concert on Wednesday night. The group's first single, "Take It Easy," soared to the top of the charts soon after its release, firmly establishing the new group on the current rock scene.

The six-week 1972 season is sponsored by Mississippi River Festival, Inc., a not-for-profit Illinois corporation with directors from Missouri and Illinois. It receives financial support from the Missouri State Council on the Arts and the Illinois Arts Council.

Tickets for River Festival concerts range from $2.50 to $5.50 for reserved seating under the tent, and lawn seating is $2. Ticket information is available by telephoning Powell Symphony Hall at 314-533-2500 or the SIU-SW ticket office at 892-2320.

Registrar Recalls One-Day Dental School Transition

Margaret Herrmann, registrar of the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine, says she probably is not unique among dental school registrars.

"I closed the registrar's office at the St. Louis School of Dentistry Aug. 31, 1970, when that school ceased operations and opened the registrar's office at the new SIU-SW dental school the very next day," Miss Herrmann said. "Not every registrar has an experience like that."

Despite her five years of experience as registrar at St. Louis University's dental school, Miss Herrmann said she had a lot to learn upon coming to a dental school just beginning to develop a program.

"No details had been resolved about the operation of the registrar's office or the admissions procedure," she said. "My first discussion was with Dean Frank Sobkowski to find out what had been done."

The SIU-SW dental school will admit its first class of students this September, and the last of the 24 members in that class filed his entrance deposit with Miss Herrmann this month. But the interval from 1970 until now was a confusing one for Miss Herrmann because of the uncertainty over the date SIU-SW could begin teaching dental students.

Her office had much extra paperwork to handle as prospective students inquired about the opening date of classes. A midst the confusion, however, Miss Herrmann, working in conjunction with dental school faculty and staff, managed to develop an admissions packet that has won the praise of almost everyone who has seen it.

Remarks about the packet that Miss Herrmann keeps in her "love-letter file" include one from an official of the American Dental Association telling Miss Herrmann that she probably had been seen as a mission forms so easy to understand and yet so complete.

Another letter, from an applicant who said he had previously struggled through forms from other dental schools, read in part:

"...For the first time in my life I truly found it a pleasure to fill out an application. My congratulations to the designer. Would that the rest of the U.S.A.'s professional schools take note!"

Miss Herrmann and her staff also have received praise from applicants on the prompt, personalized replies to questions about the admissions procedure.

Miss Herrmann said all admissions materials were designed with the student and cost factors in mind. "All material in the packet is coded for easy handling and filing," and that means saving time and money in the long run, she said.

To make the task of the dental school's selection committee simpler, Miss Herrmann developed a form containing key information on each of the hundreds of students applying for admission.

She also compiled a manual for dental school faculty members on the techniques of the personal interview, which were made available before potential students began arriving on campus.

"Our approach to interviewing is informal, but there is a certain science to it that we felt should be known," she said. Miss Herrmann had much experience in dealing with people before becoming a dental school registrar, but her entry into the realm of dental medicine was something she had not foreseen.

"I guess you could say I got my start by accident," she said. "I had applied to St. Louis University for an entirely different position, but the dental school hadn't had a registrar for seven months. I was asked if I would consider the position, and I took it."

Miss Herrmann, a St. Louis native with a bachelor's degree from Webster College and a master's in business administration from St. Louis University, has had a varied job career. She taught high school, helped produce a television series for the St. Louis Bar Association, organized throughout the country for the League of Women Voters, managed Adlai Stevenson's 1956 Missouri campaign for the presidency and was executive director of a world affairs organization based in St. Louis.

Miss Herrmann thoroughly enjoys what she is doing now.

Belleville College Makes Fall Schedule

The Belleville Area College has announced that students planning to attend the fall semester of 1972-73, should make application to enroll at their earliest convenience.

To apply, students call the college, 235-2700 and ask for the Admissions Office, or personally apply to the director of the Admissions Office, Main Campus, A165, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Students entering the fall semester of 1972 who plan to enroll full time are required to take an English Placement Test. This test is administered during the summer, and prospective students may call 235-2700 and ask for Mrs. Ehret, who will arrange a date and time.

The first day of classes for the fall semester is Aug. 28. The academic calendar for the college for 1972-73 is different from that of previous years.

Classes for the fall semester start Aug. 28 with the semester closing on Dec. 22. Classes for the spring semester open Jan. 22, 1973, and close May 24, 1973. With the early opening date of Aug. 28, it is imperative that all prospective students take the initiative to apply as soon as possible, college officials warned.

Thurs., July 20, 1972 Page 45

"Things have been frantic at this university, but the job has been exciting and different," she said. "I've been able to start from scratch—and there's a certain thrill in inaugurating things that might be helpful."

Student Finds Cherokees Are Well Informed

Patsy Kaganich, a senior at SIU-SW from Mount Olive, says her fascination with American Indian culture was the main reason she chose to do her student teaching during the spring quarter at an Indian reservation.

Miss Kaganich spent the entire quarter at the Cherokee Indian reservation in the Smoky Mountains at Cherokee, N.C.

She heard about the opportunity to teach at an Indian reservation through a fellow student at SIU-SW and immediately became interested. She taught health education and physical education to seventh, eighth and ninth grade students.

"I was surprised to find these children at the Cherokee reservation just as well-informed as any other students in the country. I was surprised to see this, because I knew about the poverty and deprivation on some Indian reservations in other parts of the United States," Miss Kaganich said.

Mountain Setting Conditions were good at the Cherokee reservation and she thinks much of this quality comes from the natural mountain environment.

"People in the mountain atmosphere seem to have a more relaxed attitude toward life and don't get as caught up in the complexities of modern-day society," she commented.

The proud heritage of the American Indian was evident among the Cherokees, according to Miss Kaganich.

"The Cherokee Indians pride themselves on their people. I think this is another reason why the children were not educationally deprived. They seem to be friendly enough to outsiders, but are not particularly interested in getting involved with them."

Miss Kaganich recommends working with people of any minority group to gain valuable insight into their culture. "You can't really understand another culture until you get into it," she said. She is the daughter of James Kaganich of Rural Route One, Mount Olive.

INURED IN ACCIDENT Mrs. Jocelyn Harper, 18, of 1108 Reynolds St., Madison, was injured in a two-car accident in St. Louis at 6 p.m. Monday. She was examined at St. Elizabeth Hospital and was released after X-rays were taken.

TIRES, WHEELS STOLEN The tires and wheels on the driver's side of the auto of Bobby Ming, 2901 Franklin Ave., were stolen from the car in Ming's driveway, the owner reported Monday.

Persons interested in enrolling in the program may apply in person at the pool office at Wilson Park between 2 and 6 p.m. Those wishing additional information about the program may call 876-7466.

You only pay one premium for title insurance. But it protects your title as long as you, or your heirs, own your property. That's what makes title insurance such a great buy.

Title insurance protects you from all claims against the title, as assumed, including those caused by "hidden risks." Like the heir of a former owner that no one knew about. Or the forgery or erroneous earlier deed or document that affects your property. Or the undisclosed divorced wife of a previous owner. This is the kind of protection you simply can't get from abstracts or searches alone.

There's a professional title insurance agent right in your area who can tell you all about this one-cost title protection. Give him a call today.

John Young Benefit Dances Aug. 13 at 3 Locations

Four local veterans groups and service clubs have combined forces to stage three simultaneous dances at local halls on Sunday, Aug. 13, to benefit the John Allen Young Fund. It was announced this week.

The dances will be held at separate locations, all starting at 2 p.m. Aug. 13, with each offering its patrons a different style of music.

Co-sponsoring the unique approach to aid the 9-year-old Granite Cityboy, who is facing the future without sight, are the Granite City Moose Lodge 272, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1300, Tri-City American Legion Post 113 and the Madison Lions Club.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Page 48 Thurs., July 20, 1972

Dave Clark, Madison Lions president and general chairman of the cooperative dance program, said that country-western music fans may dance to their favorite numbers at the Granite Hall, 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

Rock Music at VFW
Popular dance music will be featured at the Moose Club, 19th and Adams streets, while rock fans will find their contemporary, mod-style hits being played at the VFW Hall, 2050 Washington Ave.

Serving as co-chairmen are Virgil Singler of Moose Lodge 272, Bob Able of VFW Post 1300 and Don Morris representing Tri-City American Legion Post 113.

Tickets, costing $1 each and admitting one person to a dance of his or her choice, may be obtained in advance from members of the sponsoring organizations, or at the Granite City, Madison and Venice police departments, Clark said.

Volunteers Needed
Other groups volunteering to help with ticket sales include Eagles Aerie 1126, the Granite

City Disabled American Veterans and the Knights of Columbus, Tri-City Council 1098, the general coordinator advised.

Many volunteers are needed to help promote the dance benefits, Clark said. Groups and individuals wishing to assist are invited to contact Clark, at 493-3577, or Able, at 877-4940.

Proceeds will be donated to the John Allen Young Fund, which has been established at the First Granite City National Bank, 1600 Edison Ave.

Contributions to the fund will enable John's parents, Granite City Patrolman and Mrs. Albert Young, to give the youngster as many visual memories as possible before the eye disease reaches its terrifying end.

No Known Cure
Johnny, a fourth grade pupil this fall at Niedringhaus School, is the victim of retinitis pigmentosa, an hereditary eye disease for which there is no known cure and always results in total blindness.

Vision difficulties were noticed in the child by his parents three years ago, but only in January was the ailment diagnosed as retinitis pigmentosa by an ophthalmologist. The disease normally manifests itself in childhood and develops to its final stages in varying lengths of time.

About 500,000 persons in the United States may be afflicted with the ailment, although a true figure can not be determined since retinitis pigmentosa is all but impossible to detect in its early stages, a physician reported.
